Veto of Public Works Bill Sustained by One Vote

RESIGNATION OF MENON IS WITHDRAWN

By WATSON SIMS
NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today that India's defense command is continuing unchanged despite a rift between Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, the army commander.

Nehru said Thimayya had resigned Monday in a dispute over the promotion of an army officer but had withdrawn his resignation at the Prime Minister's request.

The Prime Minister gave full backing to Krishna Menon, long one of his closest and most controversial advisers on foreign policy.

"Civil authority must remain supreme," Nehru declared.

This appeared to put at rest reports that Krishna Menon would be removed from the Cabinet or shifted to another post. Nehru gave no indication that the defense minister had offered to resign, as high sources in the ruling Congress party has reported.

Nehru rebuked Thimayya for resigning at a time when India's borders were in a state of anxiety.

Thimayya has been commander of the army since May 1957.

The Prime Minister made no mention of the commanders of the air force and navy, who had been reported resigning with Thimayya.

Measure Containing Fund For Kinzua Reservoir Is Killed by House Action

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, (AP) — The House today sustained by one vote President Eisenhower's veto of a $1,216,000,000 public works appropriation bill.

The roll call vote was 274 in favor of passing the bill over the veto and 138 against.

A two-thirds vote is necessary to override. Thus, this tally would have gone the other way on a single switch of a vote.

The outcome upheld Eisenhower's record of never having had a veto overridden although there have been 144 of them in the last 6 1/2 years.

The House action kills the bill, and the Senate will get no chance to act on the veto.

The vote was so close that a recapitulation, or recheck, was ordered after the roll was first called.

A later dispatch from Washington states that Congressman Leon H. Gavlitz of this district, voted to override the president's veto, along with both Dent and Saylor. The final tally showed 6 Democrats voting with 132 Republicans to uphold the President, and 11 Republicans voting with 263 Democrats to override. When the roll call was first taken, it appeared the vote had been to override the veto. However, several members then switched their votes and turned the outcome the other way. The switching came at the end of the first roll call and before the recapitulation was ordered.

The $1,216,477,803 appropriation bill provides financing for several hundred public works projects in just about every congressional district. Most of them are river and harbor and flood control jobs. For years it has been known as the "pork barrel" bill and has been a congressional favorite because of its popularity in the home districts.

President Eisenhower vetoed it last week because it provided funds for 67 projects in 32 states for which his budget program had made no provision. It exceeded his money requests by about 30 million dollars.

Seven of Eisenhower's direct or indirect vetoes have come this year.

It takes a two-thirds vote of members present to override a veto and enact a law over the President's objection.

The House, as originator of the bill, gets first crack at the "pork barrel" measure. If it fails to muster the two-thirds majority, the bill goes to the Senate.

Rail Unions Offer To Scrap Cost-of-Living Escalator

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven railroad unions have offered to scrap the cost-of-living escalator clauses in their present wage agreements, it was reported today.

But their proposal has brought no acclaim from the railroads. The New York Times said in reporting the move.

The escalator clauses are intended to protect the workers against inflation. Wages are automatically raised or lowered in response to fluctuation in the States consumer price index.

The striking United Steelworkers Union of America and labor generally are fighting to keep the clauses, the Times noted.

It added that the employer pressure to abolish the clauses, which now covered four million workers in the nation, is based on a belief that they have added so much money to payrolls that they are inflationary in themselves.

IRVINGTON, N. J. (AP) — Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been given an opportunity to cause a rare occurrence. Some 40 patrons of Fennec's Tavern have invited him to stop by for a drink when he visits this country. If he does, proprietor Milt Hollander promises the drinks will be on the house.

"Bird Man" Offers to Chase Starlings in New York City

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y. (AP) — The bird man has returned to this New York suburban community.

He is Otto Standke, 71, a Kansan who chases birds for money. At chasing starlings, he says, he's never failed.

He offered to chase the starlings out of two bird-ridden neighborhoods here for $4,000, and the city officials took him up on it.

But they set a deadline. When it was up, the starlings had left one area but were still in another.

Standke announced he was leaving — in a huff. "Only nincompoops or damn fools would expect me to do the trick in a set, definite period of time," he said.

That was last Friday. Tuesday acting Mayor Irving B. Cendall announced Standke had agreed to return to the job,

Brakeman Presented Medal for Saving Boy

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — A railroad brakeman today is the proud possessor of the New York Central Railroad's medal of valor for his daring swim through turbulent swirling waters to rescue a young boy from drowning.

Joseph Symbala, 43, of New Castle, was awarded the medal and a savings bond in Pittsburgh Tuesday. Symbala is employed by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad.

Symbala rescued Victor Czarnicki Jr., 8, of Beaver Falls last May when the boy was swept into the Beaver River near his home. The brakeman swam 25 yards to save the boy.

Crusade in Europe Faces Biggest Test

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY AND MARVIN ARROWSMITH
PARIS, (AP) — President Eisenhower's new crusade in Europe for Western unity appears to be a big success so far on just about every count. But the real test faces him in France.

Europe's future could be vitally affected by Eisenhower's meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The two old soldiers have known each other from the days of World War II, along the rough road to victory and the rocky road of peace. Now new problems beset them.

On his visits to West Germany and Britain, Eisenhower faced no major disagreements or misunderstandings. In Paris, however, the questions at issue are delicate and far-reaching.

They include:

1. U. S. support for France in the Algerian war;
2. France's part in shaping Western global policy and her role in NATO;
3. France's ambition to become an atomic power;
4. French uneasiness over Eisenhower's meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Failure to ease these problems could leave France isolated from her allies, a dangerous situation for both France and the Allies.

The Algerian war is of the greatest immediate importance to France. De Gaulle thus far has been unable to end the rebellion against French rule now in its fifth year.

France wants and needs U. S. support in the United Nations for her Algerian policy. The United States, while sympathetic to France's problem, doesn't want to alienate the Arab world. Both governments would like to reach an understanding before the Arabs bring the Algerian issue before the U. N. this fall.

French demands for an equal voice with the United States and Britain in shaping Allied policy and French plans to become an atomic power by exploding an atomic bomb in the Sahara desert are related. De Gaulle appears to feel that if the test is successful he can claim admission to the atomic club. Presumably a stronger French position in the creation of Western policy would follow.

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have suspended their nuclear weapon tests while they negotiate slowly toward a ban on such tests. There has been speculation that the Soviets would start testing again if the French explode their weapon.

Assembly Has Major Plan for School Subsidies

HARRISBURG (AP) — A third major plan for increasing state school subsidies is before the General Assembly.

It was submitted Tuesday as spokesmen for three school groups renewed pleas for immediate legislative action on the subsidy problem.

The latest proposal, backed by Philadelphia, would increase state aid to schools 70 million dollars a biennium. It is key to including parochial and private school children in the complex formula under which state aid to public schools is based.

It would not, however, mean state aid to nonpublic schools.

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Charles T. Sanford, 32, of RD 5, Erie, was sentenced to one to three years today in Western State Penitentiary for burning down his home. He was also fined $100.

Sanford pleaded guilty to charges of setting fire to his 11-room home during a wave of despondency on July 28. Police quoted him as saying he could not hold a job and care for his four children.

Property Owners Near New School Site Plan Meeting

Residents in the area below the Swick school site are planning a meeting tomorrow night to further their demands for action by borough school authorities on flooding during heavy storms.

David A. Smith, 212 Fifth Avenue east, spokesman for the group of property owners who protested to school officials at a meeting Monday, said the meeting will be held at his house. He asked property owners to be there at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Smith said a proposal to engage the services of an attorney to represent property owners will be put before tomorrow night's meeting. He confirmed a report that legal action is planned against the school district. He said the meeting will be open to all residents of the Fifth Ward and any other property owners whose homes have been affected directly by flooding from the school site or its after effects.

Purpose of the meeting will be to determine the position of residents, what their specific complaints are and what can (Turn to Page Fourteen)

Police Apprehend Young Dracula in New York Killings

NEW YORK (AP) — Police picked up three youths today and said one of them said he was the cape-clad "Dracula" who led an attack in which two 16-year-old boys were stabbed to death Sunday.

"Dracula" earned his nickname because he wore a nurse's dark blue cape, which made him resemble the vampire of horror stories and movies.

Police said the youth identified himself as Sal Agron, of Brooklyn.

Police said he did not admit the fatal stabbing but said he "cut somebody" during the attack.

Police said three cruising patrolmen spotted three suspicious looking youths shortly after 2 a. m. today in the Bronx. First the officers collared Agron who, they said, had a knife on him. Then they picked up the other two.

Four youths have already been charged with homicide in the stabbings, and another five youths have been accused of unlawful assembly. Police said all those held are Puerto Ricans.

No Indication of Deadlock Break in Steel Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel union and industry negotiators met again today after a recess which both sides said was used for some "hard work" on matters involved in their contract discussions.

The recess in joint negotiations had been called last Thursday. Resumption of the talks marked the strike's 50th day.

There was no indication of any break in the deadlock.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, heads the mediators sitting in on the negotiations.

The strike by 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers Union of America has shut almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production. An estimated 150,000 employees in allied industries have been made idle by the strike.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits. The latest word from the union president, David J. McDonald, was that the union no longer had any specific contract demand on the bargaining table. Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

The steel companies, seeking a one-year freeze on wages and benefits, contend that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union denies

Savage Rioting in Streets of Calcutta

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — Calcutta's streets were littered with glass today following savage rioting late Tuesday in which seven persons were killed and 30 hurt.

Street cars and buses were not running. Many of the vehicles were burned by rioters protesting the Bengal state government's food policies.

No new incidents were reported today.

Violence erupted in various parts of the city Tuesday after clashes between police and a procession of 10,000 students. They were protesting the use of clubs and tear gas Monday to disperse food agitators.

PRESIDENT ENTERS PARIS RIDING BESIDE WARTIME COMRADE GEN. DE GAULLE

By GEORGE McARTHUR
PARIS (AP) — President Eisenhower made a happy and triumphant entry into Paris today riding beside his wartime comrade Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Crowds estimated at half a million jammed the center of the city, cheering and shouting as the World War II leaders drove past in an open car, on their way to conferences crucial to the Western Alliance.

It was a greeting reminiscent of the day in 1944 when Eisenhower was cheered as liberator of Paris. Officials and newsmen said the turnout appeared greater than that for Eisenhower's arrival in London.

Eisenhower is the first American president to pay a state visit to France since Woodrow Wilson came after World War I.

And France greeted him with all the pomp and ceremony she could muster—a booming 101-gun salute, blaring bands and a squadron of 64 white-gloved motorcycle escorts flanking the presidential car.

A rainbow of red, white and blue blanketed Le Bourget Airport, where Eisenhower landed from London.

From the moment of their reunion at the airport, Eisenhower and De Gaulle exchanged warm and animated conversation although both are awkward in the other's language.

They got down to business just after noon, a luncheon conference at De Gaulle's Elysee Palace.

There were 29 guests at the luncheon, among them Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The President's big jetliner touched down from London in bright sunshine. The wide balconies of flag-draped Le Bourget Airport were jammed with enthusiastic greetters who cheered the President's plane.

President Charles de Gaulle stepped forward to greet Eisenhower with a warm handshake as the President stepped from the plane, smiling and waving his hat.

Cordiality Is Keynote of Ike Reunion

Civil Rights Bill Poses Big Problem For Adjournment

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action on civil rights legislation appeared today to be posing the biggest threat to an adjournment of Congress next week.

Party leaders gave every sign of confidence that a half dozen other vexing issues can be compromised before a prospective Sept. 12 quelling date. But the fate of politically explosive civil rights proposals remained in doubt.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican leader, forecast Senate passage of what he called a "skeletonized" bill against which Southern Democratic opponents might complain loudly but not at such great length as to delay adjournment.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas obviously was not quite so hopeful. But he has told associates he expects motions to be made to bring the civil rights issue before the Senate and hopes that some legislation can be passed.

Report Shows 9.3 Increase in Crime During Past Year

By EARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 9.3 per cent in 1958 over 1957.

The year's crime clock indicated: A murder every 64 minutes. A forcible rape every 36.1 minutes. A robbery every 7 minutes. A car stolen every 1.9 minutes. A burglary every 46.4 seconds.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover jointly reported today there were an estimated 1,553,922 crimes classified as very serious offenses last year compared with 1,442,285 in 1957.

There were increases in all of the individual classifications as follows: murder, 8,182 in 1958 and 8,027 in 1957, an increase of 1.9 per cent; forcible rape, 14,561 and 12,886, 13 per cent; robbery, 75,247 and 66,843, 12.7 per cent; aggravated assault, 113,530 and 110,672, 2.6 per cent; burglary, 870,787 and 803,707, 12.6 per cent; larceny over $50, 391,550 and 354,972, 10.3 per cent; auto theft, 270,965 and 265,178, 2.2 per cent.

A crime covered in the index was committed every 20.3 seconds last year.

Youths under 18 represented only 12.1 per cent of all persons arrested. They accounted, however, for 64.1 per cent of all arrests for auto theft, 49.9 per cent of those for burglary, 48.5 per cent of those for larceny, 30.9 per cent of those for receiving or possessing stolen property and 22.8 per cent of those for robbery.

Crime increased more than five times as fast as the population.

There were 896.9 serious crimes committed for every 100,000 population, or one such crime for every 111 citizens.

For every 100 persons formally charged and held for prosecution, 67 were convicted.

House Approves $149,500,000 in Appropriations

HARRISBURG (AP) — Special appropriations totaling $149,500,000 were approved by the House Tuesday night.

They include $34,227,335 for Pennsylvania State University and $2 1/2 millions for 185 state-aided hospitals to care for the indigent.

The hospitals' appropriation was $4 million dollars above Gov. Lawrence's recommendations. The extra money will raise the state subsidy to $10 per day per patient. The present base is $9 a day.

More than 28 million dollars was earmarked for the three largest state-aided universities, Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh and Temple.

Also included was 10 million dollars each for industrial development and urban redevelopment.

All the appropriation bills passed with little or no opposition. Some of the principal opposition was raised to a few of the new spending programs proposed by the governor.

The package—which took more than an hour to run through—now goes to the Senate where the Republican majority is waiting to use a paring knife, and in some cases an axe.

The Senate already has under consideration the 1 1/2 billion dollar General Appropriation Bill which the House passed last week.

The latter covers operation of state-owned institutions and such major programs as support of public schools and the relief rolls.

14-Year-Old Girl and Baby Brother on Trip

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Plans are being made today for the return to Washington, Pa., of a 14-year-old girl and her 5-year-old brother who came here to see the sights.

Margie and Roland Bennett are in the county juvenile hall.

After arriving Sunday, Margie, whose birthday is today, attempted to pose as a 20-year-old woman with a 5-year-old son. But finding they were out of money they went to a mission and juvenile officers were called.

"I don't get along with my step-mother at all," the girl told police Sgt. C. V. McCarty. "So last Thursday I took about $75 I had saved and I took my brother. We got on a bus and came to Hollywood."

Police said the parents are Roland and Josephine Bennett of Washington.

Bell Workers Back to Work After Dispute

Maintenance employees returned to work at the Warren Bell Telephone exchange following a dispute over seniority rights of an assistant wire splicer in McKeesport. They left work August 26.

The Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania ordered 10,000 Bell employees throughout the state back to work this morning. William S. Leary, executive president of the union, told the Associated Press:

"The majority of the workers no doubt will follow the union's directive. But I want to make it clear that this does not mean we have come to an agreement with the company. We just didn't want the men to lose any more money under the conditions. Our executive board will meet Sept. 15 to decide what action will be taken."

Asked if the meeting could mean a strike, Leary said: "It could mean anything. The board might take strike action. Or it might decide to wait until the next contract negotiating session in July of 1960 to take up the grievance."

When union members did not report for work at the Warren exchange, management personnel took up repair jobs. Robert R. Allen, district manager, said telephones were connected at county schools so that service would be available for the opening of schools yesterday and today. The telephones had been disconnected for the summer.

Following heavy rain storms last weekend, management personnel repaired a number of cables which developed moisture leaks. This required locating the leaks with a test set, then baring the lead-covered cables and applying a drying agent. Then a sleeve was installed.

There were 50 employees at the Warren exchange involved in the dispute, members of Local 56, Branch 1, of the union. A total of 62 belonging to the union left work. They are employed at Kane, Tionesta, Erie teletype maintenance and Meadville and Oil City toll.

The union claims that Bell disregarded the seniority of a McKeesport cable splicer when it transferred him last week to a less important job in Pittsburgh. The union action did not disrupt service.

Union and company officials met in Philadelphia yesterday. Officials of both sides said no further meetings between the two are scheduled. The telephone company said the transferred worker will remain at the job to which he was transferred. Leary said the company rejected a proposal for a three-man fact finding board.

Earns Captain's Rank

James J. Scalise, son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Scalise of 9 Canton street, has been advanced to the rank of captain in Kaiserslautern, Germany, where he is serving with the 27th Engineer Company. Captain Scalise entered the Army in 1946 and has been in Europe since last September.

The officer is a 1946 graduate of Warren High School, attended Potomac State School in Keyser, W. Va., and was graduated from Youngstown, O., University in 1953. His wife, Patrice, is with him in Germany.

Graduated Income Tax Plan Adopted in House Facing Opposition in the Senate

HARRISBURG (AP)—A House-passed proposal for a constitutional amendment to authorize a graduated income tax of up to 6 per cent and repeal the sales tax was written off as dead in the Senate today.

Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader, said there was overwhelming sentiment in the Senate GOP majority bloc against the plan.

The House Tuesday night voted, 113-82, in favor of the constitutional amendment.

The House action was the first hurdle in the long process required to change the Commonwealth's basic law. Approval is required by both houses at two separate sessions of the Legislature and in a statewide referendum before the Constitution can be amended.

Eight Republicans helped the Democratic House majority push the income tax amendment through the lower branch. The House passed a similar plan Aug. 10, with 16 Republicans voting for it.

But the Aug. 10 action was recalled for a series of amendments. The principal one was a provision to outlaw statewide sales taxes should a graduated income tax ever be enacted.

One Democrat — Rep. William Curwood (Luzerne) — voted against the measure.

Other legislative developments: MASS TRANSIT — The Senate defeated a series of amendments proposed by opponents of a plan to set up a public mass transit system in Allegheny County.

TAXES — The Senate Finance committee returned to the floor legislation designed to raise $18,200,000 by doubling the four-mill bank shares tax and extending to gas firms the 14-mill gross receipts tax on public utilities.

The gross receipts measure was amended to make certain that the Philadelphia Gas Works, municipally owned but privately operated, would be subject to the levy.

The committee also sent to the floor a House-passed measure to increase the 3 1/2 per cent hotel occupancy tax to 4 per cent. There was a possibility the Senate may meet in midnight session tonight to enact the bill finally.

RIGHT-TO-KNOW — The Senate passed, 50-0, legislation designed to overcome legal objections to

In addition Pennsylvania poultrymen supplied 3.7 per cent of the hatching eggs exported and 4.7 per cent of the turkey poult. The leading exporting states, from the standpoint of total volume, were New Hampshire, Connecticut, Texas, Pennsylvania and California. The countries receiving the greater volume of products were Venezuela, Canada, Puerto Rico, Mexico and Cuba. The business of exporting hatching eggs, chicks and poult has expanded greatly through the use of air transportation.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower now completely dominates American foreign policy and seems to be showing more initiative in that field than any time since taking office in 1953. Why? A determination to do all possible in his last 16 months in office to find peaceful solutions with the Soviet Union may be one reason. There are others.

For one thing, Premier Nikita Khrushchev has pushed Eisenhower into his present activity by deliberately creating such a bad situation over West Berlin that a meeting with him came to look like the best hope for a way out.

But historians will long wonder how Eisenhower would have acted in these past six years if Christian A. Herter had been secretary of state all that time and John Foster Dulles never had been secretary.

The self-effacing Herter, a mild and perhaps even shy man, has (Turn to Page Thirteen)

Historic Events Leading Up To World War II Recalled

By LLOYD LEBRAS
Written for The Associated Press
At 5:20 on a misty and cloudy morning—Sept. 1, 1939—World War II started in our backyard in Warsaw.

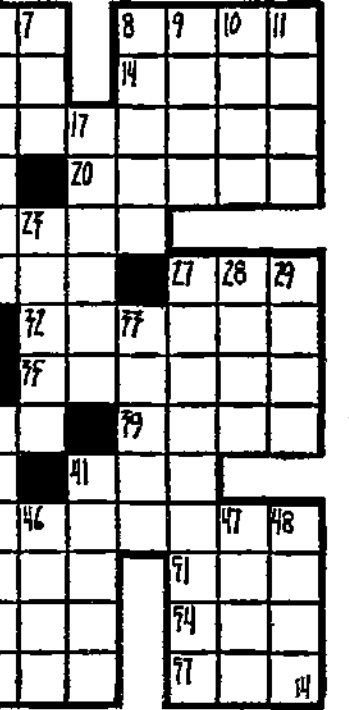

A screaming siren lifted Elmer Peterson—Associated Press bureau chief in Warsaw—and me out of our beds. Then a terrific explosion rocked our office apartment, the tocsin that Hitler had triggered a war that would change the life of the whole world.

The Nazi bombs were aimed at a bridge over the nearby Vistula, but landed on the race course less than a block away.

We were shocked, somewhat jittery, but not surprised. For two or three days, as Polish and German troops mobilized and moved closer to the frontier, all signs had pointed to war. Blackouts had been ordered in Warsaw the night before.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made

To a thoughtful bridegroom-to-be:

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED THESE FACTS IN CHOOSING HER RINGS?

In the happy future ahead, you and your bride may move to a larger home, own a bigger car...but the diamond bridal set you choose now will remain, forever and forever, the one lasting symbol of your love! These precious rings she will always wear...and then pass on to your children.

Does this mean that you must spend more than you can afford for a diamond of impressive size? Not at all. It does mean that you must choose carefully for beauty and quality, that will last...for diamonds of exquisite color, purity and cut, guaranteed by a jeweler you can trust.

Every ring set in our stock is handpicked to meet all of these requirements. Whether you plan to spend much or little...we should welcome the chance to show you our selection.

Peterson and I began hammering out the first of a flow of stories as we got scraps of information from the War Office, the U. S. Embassy, and Polish newspaper friends. Days later we found many of our urgent messages still spiked in the cable and radio offices, and a basketful in a censor's office.

In the first few days Warsaw had scattered air raids, and there was only sporadic anti-aircraft fire. We saw not more than four or five Polish planes take the air against the bombers, and only a half dozen attackers shot down.

In Warsaw the Poles were brimming over with optimism. Their troops were "fighting like lions" and would soon invade Germany. They had guns that would make it impossible for any Nazi planes to fly over Warsaw.

The Poles were fighting courageously at the front, wa crack can-alry unit actually did invade Germany, but it never came back. No one in Poland seemed to know that the Poles, gallant and brave as they were, did not have the firepower, equipment, tanks, planes to stand up to Hitler's forces. By comparison with the Nazis they were naked.

Soon after that first bomb fell the Polish radio became the air alarm system. "Warsaw Concerto" was played over and over around the clock, interrupted only by major war news or air raid alarms.

The terrible confusion caused by the alarms and attacks and the ever-growing number of persons who were leaving Warsaw for safer country areas made it extremely difficult to move about the barricaded streets, check on bomb damage, or get to see and talk to anyone who knew anything.

Then from somewhat haphazard bombing, the Germans began to tighten up their raiding pattern and the Heinkel bombers swooped closer and closer.

After one tour of bombed areas I went back to our second-floor office and began typing a story when I heard planes. More than 50 big German bombers roared over the Vistula River a block away and bombs began to rain down. Windows shattered, the floor shook, my typewriter began to dance.

But I had a grandstand seat for the spectacle over the river, and I was fascinated by the diving, wheeling, screaming planes, the thundering of bombs, the sudden giant spurts of debris from hits and water spouts from misses.

In the midst of the commotion the telephone rang—and I heard the welcome voice of Bob Parker at The Associated Press office in Budapest, Hungary. Since we could rarely get an outgoing call through, we had asked Budapest to telephone us every hour so we could get any news we had to New York.

As the bombers made a turn for another run I gave Parker a quick fill-in. "Here they come again," I yelled. Pulling the phone to the end of the cord so he could hear the whines, screeches, and explosions, I gave him a running story as the Nazi bombers repeated their deadly antics.

When the Poles learned late on Sunday that Great Britain and France had declared war on Germany they went wild with joy, assuming that it meant a quick, sure victory. By the hundreds they danced and yelled and sang down our street to the French Embassy until long past midnight.

Almost as their cheers died away the Germans launched six spearhead attacks along Poland's borders, pushing toward Warsaw. The Poles did not know, nor dream, that Poland would be prostrate long before any help came and never would be the same again.

30 Little Things Planted in Yard Turn Into Turtles

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The John Simco family planted the 30 little things in the back yard, watered them a couple of times and—guess what—grew—turtles.

That's right.

Mrs. Simco took the 30 small eggs her teen-aged daughter, Joan, found during a mid-June vacation in Wisconsin and planted them.

The incident became a family joke; except to son Jimmy, 12, who displayed a faith not shared by his elders.

Last week's hot weather set Mrs. Simco to thinking. "With all the 95-degree weather and the hot sun, all I could think of was fried eggs. I finally dug up one of the eggs last Friday and cracked it. There was a live baby turtle inside."

The first born, died. But Saturday eight turtles climbed out of the sand and Sunday there were six more.

Jimmy took the creatures down to the Illinois River where they appeared right at home.

"I sure wish we could have kept them," he said. "They'd make keen pets."

Mrs. Simco was content to let things be. "Wouldn't that have been lively?" she said. "Fourteen pet snapping turtles."

South's four spades contract could only be arrived at by the Jacoby transfer bid. When North responded with two clubs and then showed his heart suit South decided that his partner would have used a regular transfer to diamonds instead of the Stayman two clubs (which is a part of the JTB) if he did not have four spades with his five hearts.

West opened the king of clubs and continued the suit. South ruffed with dummy's five of trumps and after thinking over carefully proceeded to cash the ace and king of hearts and two high diamonds stopping in dummy.

Now he ruffed hearts and clubs back and forth and eventually wound up with 11 tricks.

It looks like a very complicated way to bid and make game but South was playing duplicate and his five odd was a top score.

Also, while four hearts made easily at a few tables most South players wound up at three no-trump whereupon West would run his club suit and set the hand right off the bat.

SYMBOL OF PEACE

President Eisenhower's new crusade in Europe for Western unity appears to be a big success so far on just about every count, but Richard K. O'Malley and Marvin Arrowsmith, Associated Press correspondents following the Chief Executive on his triumphal tour, in their dispatches today seem to have the feeling that the real test faces him in France today.

Mr. Eisenhower's relations with the statesmen and the people of Western Europe have had their ups and downs. His tumultuous welcome at various points along his current European itinerary indicates that right now he is held in high favor. As wartime and NATO commander, he was, of course, a very substantial hero (though naturally enough not to the Germans in war). He was not only a symbol of victory and later resistance to Communist encroachments, but he was the admirable conciliator, the walking proof that nations could compose their differences and work together.

But somehow, when he left NATO in the spring of 1952 to plunge into domestic American politics, the aura that had surrounded him was dissipated for many Europeans.

The word that came to us that fall from across the ocean was that most preferred Adlai Stevenson for the presidency.

In the years that have followed, Europeans from high places to low have often been very, very critical of Mr. Eisenhower. Perhaps they would in fact have assailed any U. S. president in this period. But he drew the fire.

So, of course, did his late secretary of state, John Foster Dulles. This was so even while Western alliances held firm.

Yet 1959 saw both Dulles and the President lifted to higher levels of esteem. The conviction grew that they were struggling earnestly and possibly with more effectiveness than had been realized with the problem of holding the peace while not yielding vital ground to the Communist world.

The President's roaring welcome abroad reflects his new status. It is also a compliment to him as an acknowledged man of good will devoted to peace, whether his policies be always approved or not.

The tribute reveals much more than how much warm affection is felt for Mr. Eisenhower by millions of Europeans. It shows how much the hope of peace resides in the American President, and the great country he leads.

THE PRESIDENT'S SAFETY

Both in West Germany and in Britain there has been some resentment, occasionally showing itself in disparaging comment, over the strict security measures taken by the U. S. Secret Service to protect President Eisenhower.

This display comes with poor grace and reflects a shallow understanding of the facts.

To begin with, three American presidents were assassinated and attempts made on the lives of at least two others, both in fairly recent times. How many British prime ministers and German chancellors were shot at in this or any other century?

An alarmed Congress long ago charged the Secret Service with the responsibility of safeguarding the president. It is an immensely difficult task, since his public exposure is constant and occurs under widely varying conditions that cannot always be properly controlled.

These dedicated men do their job magnificently. That's all they are trying to do now. Mr. Eisenhower doesn't ask them to do it. He has no part in it except to follow their instructions and submit to their protective measures.

Neither the British nor the Germans have so remarkable a record of performance in the security field that they dare scoff at America's exacting system. They might better take a few notes.

All reports seem to indicate Warren area schools resumed for the fall and winter term minus any evidence of confusion—thanks to preliminary plans worked out by officials in charge.

All ears will be on news from Washington today where Congress considers an override of the President's veto on the Omnibus Bill providing funds for the Kinzua Dam!

Questions designed to obtain information needed to estimate the future growth of the Nation's population will be asked in the August Current Population Survey, Director Edgar L. Bryan of the Census Bureau's regional office at Pittsburgh, has announced. The population growth questions will be asked in addition to the regular monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment. The Current Population Survey will be conducted here and in 329 other sample areas in the country during the week of August 17. Information will be collected locally. The questions will be asked of women who are or have been married. They will include inquiries on marriage and on birth of children. The answers will provide population analysts with information on past trends which must be known in order to make projections for the future. Estimates of future population growth are widely used by government agencies, business groups, educational organizations, and others, to gauge future needs for services, goods, schools, etc.

Fifty years ago when Labor Day fell on Monday, September 6, 1909, the big event planned for the holiday was a "Merchants' Picnic" staged at the Outing Club. The Warren Evening Mirror of September 4th, that year, called attention to the event in this manner: "Will Be a Big Picnic: As Labor Day, the date set for the big picnic of the Business Men's Association, approaches, the affair promises more and more to be one of the most largely attended held in this vicinity for some time. Those who will attend will not be allowed to go away without having one of the best times of the season. If it is within the power of the committee to make it so. There will be many interesting features but chief among them will be the ball game between the Merchants and the Business Men of the west side and those of the East Side, under the direction of Captains Martindale and Folkman." On the subject of Labor Day another item in the same column says: "The residents of Warren will observe Labor Day on Monday which is generally recognized as a holiday. Other than the picnic to be given by the merchants for all who wish to participate there will be no celebration and it is probable that there will not be a large number leave Warren on Monday as the labor organizations in surrounding places have not arranged extensive celebrations. In Warren the factories will close for the day and also the stores, excepting the meat markets and grocery stores, which will remain open until noon. The barber shops will be closed all day and the local newspapers will suspend publication. The post office will be open between the hours customary on holidays." x x x Incidentally, Labor Day, 1909, marked a stepping stone in the theatrical history of the borough, with the opening of what was called at the time "The Woodward Theatre," constructed by the well known merchant and business man, J. D. Woodward, for the purpose of presenting vaudeville and pictures. A long writeup on the first page of The Mirror says: "An event which will mark an epoch in the theatrical history of Warren occurred Monday afternoon when the new Woodward theatre was opened to the public. Every seat in the house was occupied and for an hour and fifteen minutes the 700 patrons of the Woodward Theatre witnessed one of the best vaudeville acts ever shown in the city. Many were the exclamations of surprise that were heard on every side while the audience was being seated. Residents of Warren had heard much and read considerable regarding the manner in which the work was being rushed forward and the beauty and convenience of the new building would present when it should be finished, but the majority were not prepared for the surprise which awaited them. The foyer of the lobby is still in an unfinished state, but entrance was gained through it. As one enters the main part of the theatre the easy access to any seat in the building is a feature which cannot escape attention. Be it a reserved seat, or not, wide aisles reach out before you, each one of which leads to a fire exit in the rear. The seats the regular opera chairs, are comfortable and as the floor has a generous elevation, the stage may be plainly seen from any seat in the house. Should you desire box seats for a party the house is equipped with four boxes, two on either side close to the stage and artistically finished. Great care and expense have been exercised in building the theatre and the management have at all times had the safety of their patrons uppermost in their minds and to this end an unusual number of exits have been provided from the main floor, over which red lights will burn during all performances. In case of fire it would be possible to clear the house in a very short time. The Proscenium arch is so constructed that all sounds made on the stage will be wafted to every inch and corner of the auditorium. The stage has been equipped with best curtains and screens, including an asbestos drop curtain which, when low-

FTC Starts New Policy To Expose Gyp Artists

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—"Consumer Alerts" to warn the public of shoddy offerings by unscrupulous salesmen are now being issued by the Federal Trade Commission when occasion warrants their release. Among the gyps exposed so far are:

- "Twenty-five dollar French perfumes," made some place west of Newark, N.J., where they were put up with a label showing the Eiffel Tower and sold for $3 a bottle.
- "Forty-two gorgeous rose plants" containing not a single rose, offered by a Michigan nursery for $2.98.
- "Satin umbrellas" made of rayon and acetate.

Under a new policy initiated by FTC Chairman Earl W. Kintner, as soon as the outlines of a new business racket become plain, a consumer alert bulletin will be issued.

In some cases this will mean that a warning may be issued while the Trade Commission is still conducting its investigation of a complaint. Names of the firms being investigated won't be mentioned in such alerts.

Complaints can't be prejudged, it is pointed out. Cases have to be proved. But if the public can benefit, there is no reason why an investigative body like FTC should sit on information that would help consumers protect themselves.

TO PROSECUTE THESE CASES AND GET OUT THE NECESSARY

FTC cease and desist orders for enforcement takes much time. While this is going on, others may be stuck. So the Commission has decided to move before legal processes begin.

"It's still possible to be against sin," says an FTC spokesman, "without having to name every sinner."

Idea of the alerts is not to smear all perfume, rosebush, umbrella or other sales outlets. But by warning consumers to be on their guard, legitimate firms doing an ethical business are also protected. The new FTC alerts will have another interest in protecting honest, independent businessmen from exploiters who make a specialty of preying on small businesses.

THE MOST RECENT ALERT WARNS budding authors against the flattery but false offers of "Vanity Press" publishers. Their racket is to invite writers to submit manuscripts for constructive evaluation by impartial experts.

If an author takes this bait, back comes a letter advising him that his work has a most enthusiastic reader report. After much correspondence the author signs a contract giving him 40 per cent royalties and all TV and movie rights.

But in fine print down below, it says that the author must bear all publishing costs. These run from $900 to $5,000. If the author forks over, he may get a few copies of his book and maybe a first royalty payment—from his own money. But then he's had it.

ONE OF THE MOST LUCRATIVE small business rackets FTC has moved in on this year is the "advance fee" bill for aid in getting a small business loan that never materializes. If the businessman has just been turned down by his local bank as a poor risk, he's an easy prey for this one.

The prospective borrower signs a contract that entitles him to a management survey. This lists his assets and liabilities and then makes some general observations about his plans for reorganization and expansion.

Radio and TV

By RICHARD A. MULLIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Humorist Max Shulman will bring television its first "anti-togetherness" series when his "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" premieres Sept. 29 on CBS.

The half-hour situation comedy, occupying the prime 8 o'clock slot each Tuesday, is based on more than 100 Shulman short stories.

"Dobie," explains creator Shulman, "is a high school kid who will do anything to get a girl. He's not a wolf. He just has to have a girl. That's his main mission in life."

"This is an anti-togetherness series. Dobie doesn't quite understand his parents, and they don't understand him. There are no family discussions in his house to iron out problems. Everybody just tries to keep off everybody else's back."

In the Shulman short stories, Dobie was a college freshman, but he has been reduced to high school age for television to keep up with changing times. "Most college freshmen I know," says Shulman, who still makes an annual college campus tour to plug the wares of a cigarette manufacturer, "are pretty smart these days and don't go in for this kind of foolishness."

More than any other practicing humorist, Shulman has made a career of chronicling the foibles of adolescents and college kids. He was discovered by a roving publisher's representative while editing the humor magazine at the University of Minnesota. The contact resulted in "Barefoot Boy With Cheek," his first novel, published, cuts off all possibility of a fire from the stage sweeping out over the audience as was the case in the memorable Iroquois theatre fire. Powerful incandescent lights illuminate the auditorium, and the stage is provided with sufficient foot and border lights that any desired effects may be obtained. The dressing and property rooms are all in the basement below the stage, entrance being gained from stairs on either end of the stage and the orchestra circle. Through the untiring efforts of Mr. J. D. Woodward, assisted by Joseph Rothschild Warren now has one of the best vaudeville theatres in this end of the state, and if the attendance at the initial performance is to be taken as an index to the patronage it will receive, it is safe to say that Warren people will show their appreciation in a way that will be very gratifying to the management.

An item of timely interest now, in another column of the 1909 paper says: "A large amount of material has been placed on the site of the proposed building to be erected by the Warren Trust Company and next week a force of workmen will begin soon and there will be no delay in rushing the structure to completion. The necessary lumber, steel, brick and other supplies are all ordered and arriving."

How to Keep Well

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

SEAWEED AND OTHER BUNK

The Food and Drug Administration recently debunked a number of health claims. Eating seaweed, for example, does not assure good health. The attack was aimed mainly at keep tablets that are promoted in leaflets entitled "Are You Starving?" and "Food for Your Body."

False claims were made that these keep tablets furnished adequate amounts and proportions of all minerals, trace elements, and basic materials necessary to life, proper nourishment, and good health. The dealer in question claimed the product would produce power, vigor, and stamina; coagulate blood in wounds; harden bones and teeth; distribute hormones in the body; stimulate memory; maintain a normal heart beat; and prevent tuberculosis, arteriosclerosis, and cataracts.

This was too much for the FDA and the government charged the dealer with false claims. While the tablets were loaded with iodine—53 times the minimum daily requirement—the body does not need this much of the mineral. We obtain an adequate supply in our diet, plus iodized salt. In addition, the government agency stated there was no general need of supplementing the diet with manganese, copper, arginine acid, chlorophyll, manitol and zinc.

The FDA also seized 90,000 chewing gum tablets as a "no diet" reducing treatment at $1 for a 20 tablet bottle. The government said the product was misbranded and falsely represented. This included a leaflet sheet entitled "Eat What You Want—Yet Lose Up to 3-5 Pounds a Week."

The FDA reemphasized what physicians have been preaching for years—there is no easy way to weight reduction. It can be accomplished only by eating less, counting calories, and being consistent about the diet.

A government release also told of a pharmacist who, within 60 days, had sold 2,100 tablets of pep pills and tranquilizers to one customer without a prescription. This person was suffering from the effects of overdosage and dependence on these drugs. He nearly strangled his wife when she tried to prevent him from going to the drug store for more.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, addressed envelope accompanies request.

Don't give up. This is the type of wry neck that gets well ultimately.

FEARFUL PERSON
J. L. writes: Does an abnormal fear of illness indicate insanity?

REPLY
Many persons fear illness but an abnormal fear indicates an immature attitude. This is how the hypochondriac or psychoneurotic behaves. Let's not call it insanity until the individual loses contact with reality and has hallucinations and begins discussing his case with imaginary physicians and nurses.

Business Mirror

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Marble is making a comeback. Since the end of World War II sales in this country have increased five-fold.

Marble-top tables and other furniture have caught popular fancy—the old ones as collectors' items, and new applications for modern furniture.

But its revival as a building material sparks even more interest. Architects stress that new applications and preparations make marble less costly than it once seemed.

After several years of almost total eclipse marble is on the way back in competition with other building materials in commercial construction. It also is being more widely used in residential building, where once it was all but banned, largely on grounds of cost.

Along with availability of thinner, less costly forms of marble, one big talking point today is the low maintenance cost of the stone in an age when labor charges are a growing item.

The Marble Institute of America says its 110 marble contractor and dealer members handle most major construction in this country and about 30 per cent of the residential use. It reports tonnage production of domestic quarries is up 20 per cent since 1954.

But imports are gaining faster. About half of all marble used in the United States is imported compared with 30 per cent in 1954. Most of the finishing of imported marble is done here. There are 15 major producers in the United States and most of them also are importers.

Fifteen years of experimentation have paid off in more efficient and economical ways of using the material. The industry can now cut marble slabs thin enough for the current style of thin walls. It can offer a metal framed sandwich panel. This has a marble exterior finish, backed by a core of rigid insulation. The interior finish is Masonite or asbestos with a cement bond.

These three-inch panels are said to look like three inches of solid marble, yet they weigh less than one-third that much and are highly resistant to noise and weather changes.

A ½-inch marble slab is available for interior partitions. Marble slabs are being used as lateral or horizontal fins on buildings. A market is growing for half-inch marble tiles for interior use, or for exterior use.

Home builders are told that marble floors are good conductors for radiant heating systems. White marble chips are touted for protection or for heat reflection on flat roofs or modern domes. Research is under way on how crushed marble can be used in highway construction or in various chemical processes.

Patricia Holmes and James Phillips Wed in Torpedo Candlelight Rite

COLE HILL — Patricia Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Holmes of Torpedo, and James Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Phillips, were married in a double ring service in the Torpedo church August 29.

The Rev. Cassius Armitage of City, performed the candlelight ceremony at three in the afternoon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore ballerina-length white net and a fingertip veil. With it she wore a gold cross and carried a corsage of white and pink carnations atop a Bible.

As maid of honor for her sister, Carol Holmes wore ballerina-length pink net and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridesmaid was Patricia Landsey, cousin of the bride. Her ballerina gown of blue nylon was accented with a corsage of the same flowers.

Completing the bridal party, the flower girl was Rita Sherman, cousin of the bride; ring bearer was the bride's brother, Ronnie Holmes; best man was Charles Phillips, brother of the bridegroom; and ushers were Merl Sutton, Jerry Eastman and Raleigh Sutton.

The bride's mother wore black accessories and corsage of pink carnations with a gown of ivory color; the bridegroom's mother chose a blue sheer print, with black accessories and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, with Ruth Benedict managing the guest book. Roberta Dey served the wedding cake; Ethel McAvoy was at the coffee service; Lois Eastman presided at the punch bowl; and other aides were Mrs. Merl Howell, Mrs. Charlotte Rafalski, Mrs. Ethel Peterson.

Guests numbering 160 were present from Cleveland, O.; Buffalo and Clymer, N. Y.; Saegertown, Titusville, Warren, Youngsville, Pittsfield, Sugar Grove, Columbus and Corry.

The newlyweds left Saturday evening for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. The bride is a 1959 graduate of Youngsville High School and is employed at Len's Dinner Bell. Mr. Phillips was graduated from Titusville in 1958 and is employed at Beardsley's sawmill at Spring Creek.

SATURDAY BRIDE IS SHOWER GUEST

SUGAR GROVE — Mrs. Perry Wilcox and Mrs. Harry Williams entertained with a bridal shower at the former's home to honor their niece, Barbara Johnson of Maple Springs, who became the bride of John Miller on Saturday.

A lavender and yellow color scheme was used in appointments and to decorate the home. Prizes for the evening went to Miss Johnson, Mrs. Einar Hultman and Margaret Johnson and the bride-elect received many nice gifts from 20 guests in attendance from Maple Springs, Jamestown, Lakewood, Ellery Center, Watts Flats, Corry and Sugar Grove.

Good Permanent Is Behind Bouffant Style

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The bouffant hairdo is going right on into fall but with slightly different look. In some cases, it will be styled closer to the head and cut with less bulk. In others, it will be smoother and the bouffancy will be accomplished with a suggestion of soft waves rather than curls.

Basis for the new bouffant look will be, of course, a good permanent. A new one has just been developed which is designed especially for bleached, tinted, porous or damaged hair. It gives the hair, while it waves, a treatment that's the equivalent of a luxurious milk bath for the body.

Because it's meant especially for hair that's been chemically treated in some way, it has a color balance which means it won't affect either natural or artificial hair coloring.

The new base in this permanent requires no added ammonia.

The bouffant hairdo is still very much in evidence this fall, but in newer versions cut closer to the head. This one is based on a soft and natural permanent.

While it gives you absolute curl, it also gives you soft manageable hair.

Stohlbergs Honored At Methodist Event

SUGAR GROVE — Mr. and Mrs. Travers Stohlberg, Martha and David Stohlberg, who have moved to a new home in Corry, were honored at the monthly Family Night at the Methodist church, with 65 members present for the turken supper served at tables decorated with garden flowers.

Flossie Broughton was in charge of the program, which opened with group singing, Scripture and prayer by Rev. Alvin Rhodes, followed by introduction by Miss Broughton of the honored guests with original poems. Frank Conklin read the poem for Mr. Stohlberg and Mrs. Gerald Miller the one written for Mrs. Stohlberg. Edwin Young presented a gift to the family from those present.

Comprising the committee for the evening were Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Clifford Storms, Mrs. Burt Schoonover, Mrs. Frank Conklin and Mrs. Gerald Miller.

The Stohlbergs have been active in church and civic affairs of the community since coming to Sugar Grove 27 years ago. Mr. Stohlberg directed the choir for many years; served as a member of Northern Area School Board and was its president for several years. Mrs. Stohlberg served as librarian of the Free Library, as well as being active in clubs and church work.

Martha Stohlberg plans to enter Edinboro State Teachers' College this fall.

Former Sugar Grove Missionary Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlberg, 4124 West Ridge road, Erie, announce the engagement of their daughter, Florence Marie, to Donald Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dunn, 30 North 25th street, East Orange, N. J.

The Carlbergs are former Sugar Grove residents and the bride-elect was graduated from Sugar Grove-Farmington Joint High School, also of Hamot Hospital School of Nursing in Erie, and of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. Dunn is a graduate of Plainfield, N. J., High School, received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering at Newark, N. J., College of Engineering, and is also an alumnus of Prairie Bible Institute in Three Hills, Alberta, Canada.

Miss Carlberg is a member of Grace Baptist church in Erie and her fiancé is a member of Evangelical Baptist church in Newark, N. J. Both are attending language school in San Jose, Costa Rica, and are serving as missionaries under the mission board of the Evangelical Union of South America in Englewood, N. J.

Youth and Beauty Are Fine But Are Not All Important

Before she took her life at the age of 59, a former Ziegfeld show girl left this tragic note to explain why life for her was no longer worth living:

"I am too lonely and insecure to fight on in a losing game. I can't look forward to dragging myself around as an old, forlorn bat. I see them around and it is too pitiful."

The pitiful thing, of course, is for a woman to bank so heavily on youth and beauty that once they are gone she thinks life isn't worth living.

Youth and beauty last only a few years for any woman and so she should never let them become all-important to her.

Before youth and beauty are gone she should mentally kiss them goodbye and start about the serious business of developing resources within herself that are more lasting and reliable.

● She should cultivate the art of friendship—for good friends are splendid insurance against loneliness.

● She should develop some talent or ability so that she can make her way alone financially if necessary.

● She should seek love by being the kind of person who can give love unselfishly.

● She should cultivate interests that make everyday living rewarding and stimulating.

● She should find ways of being of service to others, so that she never has to wonder what use she is in the world.

● And above all, she should strive for a deep, religious faith to give a meaning to all life.

Beauty is not an unmixed blessing. It makes everything easy for a woman when she is young and sought after. But unless she has the wisdom and foresight to realize that it won't last forever, there is always the danger that she will depend on it too much and for too long.

Nearly 100 guests from Buffalo and Jamestown, N. Y., Warren, Corry, Russell, Williamsport and Bradford attended open house held from 7:00 until 10:00 p. m. Saturday to mark the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hilmar A. Roos, 1618 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Given by their three daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Spear, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schormann, the observance was held in the Schormann home, 320 Buchanan St. Also sharing in the happy occasion were the celebrants' grandchildren, Alan, Cheryl and David Smith, Elaine and Douglas Spear, Robert, Deborah and Barbara Schormann.

Using a sapphire blue and white color thought, the buffet table was centered with an antique picture frame of the bride, arranged with matching miniature zinnias and white glads. The bride of 45 years was remembered with a corsage of garnet sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Florence Hultberg and Mrs. Carl Werner served the anniversary cake; Mrs. George Cobb and Mrs. Christian Andersen poured; Elaine Spear managed the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Roos were united in marriage September 1, 1914, the ceremony performed by Pastor Carl Jacobson of St. Paul's Lutheran church in the bride's home at 109 Irvine street and the reception held there. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. George Cobb, who were also among the Saturday night guests.

Warren has been their home since their marriage. Mr. Roos having been employed by Hammond Iron Works for 41 years prior to his recent retirement.

EAGLES' AUXILIARY HAS SPECIAL GUEST

The regular meeting of Eagles' Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, with a good turnout. Bernice Uplinger was elected chaplain, with Jean Klester as outside guard. Members were privileged to welcome the grand vice president, Adeline Navarro, who conducted a panel discussion.

Doris Clover's name was called for the attendance award, but she was not in attendance. Luncheon was served at the conclusion of the business session.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS MEETING SEPT. 9

Members of Court Warren, Catholic Daughters of America, are reminded that their regular meeting will be September 9, instead of tonight. A good turnout is expected to hear the plans for the coming season. It will take place in St. Joseph's hall at 8 p. m.

CLARENDON AUXILIARY

All members of Marshall Larsen Auxiliary are urged to turn out for the meeting in the Clarendon VFW Post Home at 8:00 p. m. Thursday.

'Guys and Dolls' Chosen as Opener for Warren Players

With one of the greatest seasons in Warren Players' history in the making, tryout dates for the first fall show, "Guys and Dolls", are announced today by Directors Bill Hill, Jr., Helen Potter and Penny Beach.

Tryouts for the musical comedy will be held this Thursday and Friday and again next Tuesday, September 8, at 7:30 o'clock in the Woman's Club auditorium.

"Guys and Dolls", the musical comedy that set Broadway on its ear back in the late forties, is an apt choice for Players' opening production.

many others comprise the wonderful musical score, which Warren playgoers will thrill to on October 15, 16 and 17.

There are 18 speaking roles in the large cast and directors stress that all are encouraged to try out. One of the reasons for choosing this particular show is that singing voices required need not be outstanding. Readers will recall Marion Brando as Sky Masterson!

Anyone interested in any form of play production—publicity, production, costumes, props, set construction, and the myriad other jobs connected with a show of this magnitude—is invited to be present at the tryouts on the dates given above.

Dancers, singers, actors—experienced or not—are asked to lend a hand in making this production the success anticipated. Whether or not the individual is a member of Warren Players, his presence is requested.

The directors also stress this is a wonderful opportunity for recent high school graduates remaining in Warren to join an organization which provides fun and entertainment for all.

NEW SEASON FOR SHEFFIELD GROUP

SHEFFIELD — A glance through attractive program books of Sheffield Woman's Club, distributed at the opening meeting, indicates members may look forward to a year of pleasing events.

This first gathering was the annual tea, held at the home of Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor, with the following as guests: Mrs. Jay Catlin and Mrs. Orabelle Shick, former members; Edna Brown, Erie; Mrs. Taylor, Philadelphia; and Mrs. William Rawson, also a former member, now living in DuBois. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. W. O. Christenson and Mrs. B. J. Hoyer.

Mrs. Christenson, the president, conducted a brief business session, welcoming the group for a new year. Roll call was answered with many entertaining "Vacation Echoes". For presentation of the season's program plans, Chairman Eva Brown was assisted by Mrs. L. O. Eisenhauer and Mrs. Otto Mayer.

MEETING REMINDER

WRIGHTSVILLE—Cemetery Aid members will be entertained Thursday at the home of Vivian Anderson, 339 Forest avenue, Jamestown.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mrs. L. E. Dean and daughter, Mrs. Ardace Bosworth, of Wichita, Kans., are here to visit in the homes of Mrs. Dean's sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Decker and Mrs. Elmer Lauffer, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson, Sheffield.

Mrs. Charles Kavinski and children, Charlene, Becky and Steven, of Buena Vista boulevard, with her sister, Miss Virginia Pulli, Clarendon, are home after a pleasant vacation with another sister, Mrs. Lois Amico, in Winchester, Mass.

The Rev. C. C. Ross of Blooming Valley, a former pastor of Youngsville Methodist church, has been a caller of the Joseph Enick family on Ross Hill and others in the area and extends his greetings to former parishioners and friends.

Activities Outlined For Sheffield WSCS

SHEFFIELD—At Tuesday's meeting of First Methodist WSCS, announcement was made that a Kane-Warren Sub-District workshop will be held at Epworth Methodist church in Warren September 29.

The Jamestown District Seminar will be held in Randolph, N. Y., September 10, the group was reminded.

Conducting Tuesday's meeting was the president, Mrs. M. M. Beer, who thanked committees for the very successful silver tea held at the home of Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor, when 110 guests attended and $76 was realized.

The worship service was in charge of Mrs. W. O. Christenson, using the topic "The Light Upon the Mountain". Mrs. C. E. Taylor, program chairman, recited for the 21 members present "The Responsibilities of the New Year", Mrs. Wade Cochran assisting her.

Members accepted an invitation to be guests of the Augustana Lutheran Church Women of Bethany church at 8:00 p. m. September 15.

Concluding refreshments were served by Mrs. Kay Moore, Mrs. Harry Baledn-sperger, Mrs. Arch Brown and Mrs. Harry Prieset.

Struthers Wells Negotiating New Union Contracts

Negotiations over new contracts have been underway at the Struthers Wells Corp. plant on Pennsylvania avenue west between management and two office unions. Shop personnel, members of the International Association of Machinists, reached a contract agreement with management last June.

At the Struthers Wells plant in Titusville, the contract between the local of the United Steelworkers of America and the company expired today, but union members extended the deadline one day. Union meetings were scheduled for today. It was reported if a new contract agreement is not reached today the union may go on strike tonight.

At the Warren plant negotiations have been between locals of the American Federation of Technical Engineers and Office Employees International Union where contracts expire today. About 80 employees belong to the two unions.

The one-year contract negotiated between the company and the IAM local last June contained a nine cent per hour wage increase. The contract expires June 14, 1960.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — In middle age about the only exercise some men get is climbing on the water wagon—and falling off.
After more than a quarter century of traveling the cocktail circuit—purely in the line of duty naturally—I find myself spending more and more of my time — by choice—high and dry on the old wagon.
My reason is quite simple. I like the change of view it gives, and am getting to like it more and more.

My initiation into the cup that cheers goes back to the Prohibition days when people sat around in dimly lit apartments gulping some brew out of kitchen pans at 35 cents a pan. It was fun merely because it was illegal. The beer was green, strong enough to curdle all four stomachs of the average cow.
Later, as a cub reporter, it was pure joy to stand at the bar drinking two-for-a-quarter shots of amber spirits of grain while listening to the colorful old-timers tell how life was like in the good old days.

But one by one—in this city, in that city—the old-timers took their last one for the road, and the road never led back.

Balenciaga Has Unveiling of Latest Styles

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Fringed hems, loose overblouses and rhinestone tennis ball jewels are trademarks of the new Balenciaga collection. Fashion writers were finally permitted to see it this morning, a month after other major Paris fashion openings.
The Spanish designer, whose influence on styles is powerful, is said to have put off his opening because he feared spies among the press.

One new Balenciaga brainstorm made the audience laugh and cheer — a mannequin wearing a black crepe sheath with a shutter back on drawstrings, lowered it like a venetian blind to bare her back.

Balenciaga keeps his hemline short, an inch or two below the knee. Only three or four models show half the kneecap. His suits are slender rectangles, some with short jackets blousing down in the back, and others with longer straight jackets to midhip. There are also battle jackets, banded around the hip and yoked at the back.

The most original hats of the season are worn by Balenciaga mannequins. One that looks just like a black satin baseball is worn squarely over one ear; whatever holds it on, it isn't gravity.

Most any TV viewer understands: intrigue — most any newspaper is well advised to what's going on at all times. At the moment, until September 14, there's a concentrated drive to secure additional registered voters. Both major parties are working to find and see signed up "partywise" several hundreds of citizens in Warren County who have never bothered to enjoy the right to vote. One can understand the newcomer (who isn't sure); one can appreciate the "dreamer" (who doesn't understand); one can realize that a few are "biased" and refuse to explain why — BUT... unless one is properly registered, one has absolutely no voice at all—such a person can vote neither for nor against anybody! This registration period does not permit changing party affiliations—but DOES assure your honest preference for the candidate you feel is best qualified to do the job. If you have not registered as a qualified voter (at the Warren County Court House) why not do so before Sept. 14. If you have previously registered to vote, but have since moved from your voting district, be sure to change your present registration address (should you fail to do so, you will not be eligible to vote in November).

Locally, school has started. The lads and lassies will get under way just in time for Labor Day Monday, a holiday! In many homes, college students will soon be returning to the campus of their choice.

We've done a pretty fair advisory job as far as county schools are concerned — but when it comes to higher education, we can suggest but one thing—be sure to be tops scholastically and be positive that you are well-dressed.

The Style Shop recommends "ARROW" for Career and for College. And we heartily recommend that you head for The Style Shop for the "best in menswear." Dress shirts; sport shirts and sweaters in new autumn shades; handsome leather or knit or wool jackets... you'll find everything you want and need at The Style Shop—today!

A visiting "pro", at Sunday's CVCC pro-am golf event, watched as one of the local boys managed to drive over No. 3 water hole. His comment—"the only thing he did wrong was that he failed to look surprised!" The remark was made by Lionel Callaway, who has authored an excellent book—"Swingaway with Callaway", soon to be printed.

"Rings on her fingers—and bells on her toes"—she shall have beauty wherever she goes... there's a new twist to insuring her beauty—no matter where she goes—and that's to gift her with a rare and exquisite perfume. If you've a charming daughter about to depart for college, you can quickly find a gift of glamour and excitement to keep her company.

Stop and shop at The Warren Drug Store to select the perfect "to college gift" for your lovely, young lady. Choose famous Chanel No. 5; Miss Dior, or any of Lanvin's exquisite French perfumes. You'll make an impression and so will SHE—when she arrives complete with French creations.

If only the back-to-school enthusiasm could be sustained until next June! The night before, there's no argument about bedtime (that is right now!)—but how quickly the picture will change. You may think you've heard all the reasons why they shouldn't hit the sack on time—but wait—and see—we'll bet there are plenty of new ones!

NEWSPAPER BOY DAY
Governor Lawrence has called attention to the observance of "Newspaper-Boy Day" on Saturday, October 17, an annual observance of National Newspaper Week, which he said offers citizens of Pennsylvania occasion "to salute the fine young men who faithfully deliver our newspapers to our doorsteps throughout the year." "Pennsylvania's newspaperboys are proud examples of the youth from which our leaders of tomorrow will come," he said. "As they make their daily rounds they are serving in one of the traditional and most respected training programs in our Nation's system of free enterprise. Their courtesy, honesty and good faith merit our appreciation."

Commissioners Hear Interesting Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An authority on county commission matters says county government must accept leadership in community development or be replaced by "super cities."
Atty. David Craig of Pittsburgh told the Pennsylvania State County Commissioners convention Tuesday that many local governments are committing "highway robbery" on beautiful new highways by turning them into main streets of towns.
He said the "population explosion," new construction and more automobiles have caused a host of problems which are not being met by local governments.
In another speech, Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horling, state secretary of welfare, said that 3.2 per cent of the population in Pennsylvania, or about 355,000 people, are on public assistance — either old age, blind, dependent children or general.

RAIN MISSED AREA
Although thunderstorm clouds developed late yesterday west of Warren, no rainfall occurred and Weather Observer Jim Keiser's rain gauge was empty this morning. The river stage this morning was two feet and falling. A light breeze last night made sleeping a bit more comfortable than during the past few nights.

Chairman Reminds Of Conservation Reserve Signup

Farmers should bring along the necessary information when they file request for a basic Conservation Reserve rate at County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, according to N. E. Dodd, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The deadline for requesting that a basic annual rate per acre be established for land offered under the 1950 program is September 10, although requests may be filed at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office as early as August 24.

The county office has regular forms to be filled out when farmers apply for a basic rate. Information needed to complete the form includes a description of the acreage for which the basic rate is requested and the crop production history of the land. For each field, details will be needed as to the kind of crop and the yield per acre for the 5-year period 1955 through 1959.

After the basic rate for a farm is established, the farmer will have an opportunity to file an application for a Conservation Reserve contract.

Mr. Dodd also reminded farmers that land for which a basic rate is requested must be "eligible" land. To be eligible, land must have had a crop harvested from it or must have been in a regular rotation during 1959. In addition, tame hay land may be placed in the Conservation Reserve provided it has a stand of perennial grasses or legumes normally established by land preparation and seeding. Tame hay land must also have had hay or silage harvested from it in 3 of the 4 years, 1956-1959. Farmers who have questions about the Conservation Reserve can get the answers at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

World Briefs

SOEGNE, Norway (AP)—The excitement of his daughter's wedding to Steven Rockefeller has put Kristian Rasmussen to bed with a heart flareup. His doctors say the condition of the 61-year-old retired grocer is not serious, but he will have to take it easy for a while.

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower left London today a wounded man. The President carved a half-inch nick on his left jaw shaving this morning.

SEVILLA, Spain (AP)—Seven bodies were removed today from a coal mine in which 16 miners are believed to have perished in an explosion 1,500 feet underground Tuesday.

CIUDAD OREGON, Mexico (AP)—A sharp rise in the Yaqui River was expected today, and the threat of floods sent thousands fleeing from their homes in southwest Sonora State. Heavy rains sent high waters spilling over from the Alvarado Obregon Dam into the river, which flows 50 miles through southwest Sonora State into the Gulf of California.

SEOUL (AP)—A 10-man U.S. Defense Department mission arrived from Japan today for a three-day inspection of the U.S. military aid program in Korea.

TOKYO (AP)—North Korea's Communist government today announced a major Cabinet reorganization. Pyongyang radio said the ministries of Justice, Local Administration, City Construction, Management and Labor have been abolished. No explanation was given for the changes.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

Hunting Licenses on Sale
On Aug. 31, 1959 Pennsylvania hunting license will expire. Beginning Sept. 1, 1959 license must be owned and properly worn in the lawful hunting or trapping of any wild bird or animal—including predators—in the Commonwealth.

New licenses are in the hands of all county treasurers. They are also available, or soon will be, at business establishments of other issuing agents.

Persons hunting mourning doves, gallinules, rails or sora on Sept. 1, the day the season for these game birds opens, must own and wear the new license. But it is not required that those who hunt the birds named, or woodcock, purchase a Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp.

Waterfowl hunters are, however, required to own and wear a 1959 Pennsylvania Hunting License and possess the Federal bird stamp to hunt ducks, geese, brant and coots in Pennsylvania. The "duck stamp" must be purchased at a U. S. Post Office.

Buck Deer Are Chummy
About August 1, Game Protector Claude Kelsey and a Deputy Protector were on an evening patrol in Clearfield County when they saw a herd of deer in a farmer's field. Says Kelsey: "As we approached the field my companion exclaimed, 'My gosh, those are all bucks!' He was right; all seven were bucks."

Angry Rabbits
A man who visited the headquarters of Game Protector J. M. Maholtz requested some of the repellent purchased by the Westmoreland County Sportsmen's League for use by gardeners suffering from rabbit damage. Reports Maholtz: "The man had been putting red pepper on his plants. It made the rabbits angry, he said, and he was afraid they would bite his children!"

"Early bird" hunters will welcome arrival of Sept. 1, the day the 1959 dove and marsh bird season opens. The first game bird seasons of the year will provide many a sportsman occasions to test his wing shooting eye preliminary to the waterfowl and upland bird season.

Following Federal regulations will be in effect: Open season for gallinules, rails and sora will be Sept. 1 to Nov. 9, inclusive. Daily bag limit is 15; maximum possession limit after first day, 30.

Shooting hours for gallinules, rails and sora are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, except on first day of waterfowl season when the opening hour is 12 noon, EST., and on Oct. 31, opening hour for all hunting is 8 a. m., EST.

The 1959 open season on mourning doves will be similar to that of last year. Hunting for doves will begin Sept. 1, ending Nov. 4. Hunting hours are from 12 noon EST to sunset. Daily bag limit for doves is 10; maximum possession after first day, 20. Reports have it that mourn-

Oklahomans Take Legal Beverages In Serious Mood

OKLAHOMA CITY, (AP)—Oklahomans took their legal liquor soberly Tuesday.

Curiosity stood in for jubilation as almost 500 liquor stores opened their doors. Sooners bought their jugs in public for the first time since statehood in 1907.

There was no singing, no dancing in the streets.

A State Tax Commission official reported sale of liquor stamps in August netted Oklahoma close to four million dollars.

A Woman's Christian Temperance Union leader said "We don't need the taxes. Nobody needs anything that comes from the devil."

In Tulsa operators said business was so brisk the first hour it was hard to handle. Then it tapered off. Some persons merely strolled through, looking at the bottles.

ing doves and the marsh birds are at least as numerous as last year.

Federal Migratory Bird Hunting Stamp is not required of persons in pursuit of sora, rails, gallinules and mourning doves, but a 1959 Pennsylvania hunting license must be owned and worn by any person hunting these birds.

Sunday hunting for wild game is prohibited in the Commonwealth.

Many more sportsmen hunt mourning doves than gallinules, rails and sora in the Keystone State. The dove hunter "walks them up" on cultivated land, or he waits for pass shooting between a corn field and a watering place frequented by the doves. The mentioned marsh birds are found in numbers only in the wet areas in the southeastern and northwestern corners of the Commonwealth. Another factor that limits participation in this uncommon sport is that, for success, a light, flat-bottomed boat that can be poled through shallow water and over marsh vegetation is practically a must.

While traveling along a State Forest road in Potter county in July, veteran Game Protector Rozell Stidd observed something he called "most encouraging." Said Stidd, "I stopped the car to permit a flock of wild turkeys to cross the road in safety, and counted 5 turkey hens and 39 poult. The poult were nearly the size of ringneck pheasants. Reports of young turkeys seen in most of my district indicate the hatching season was quite successful this year."

Civil Service Exams For Machine Operators

Office Machine Operators are urgently needed for employment in Federal establishments in Delaware and Pennsylvania, according to word received yesterday from the Director of the Third U. S. Civil Service Region. A written test is required.

High School graduates without experience, or nongraduates with three months' appropriate experience can qualify for jobs paying $3,255 a year. High School graduates with three months' experience or nongraduates with six months' experience can qualify for jobs paying $3,495 a year.

Operators are needed for various types of duplicating equipment and office appliances, including addressing machines, bookkeeping machines, calculating machines, and grapho-type machines.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Civil Service Representative W. U. McMichael, at Warren, Pa. Post Office or the Director, Third U. S. Civil Service Region, 107 U. S. Customhouse, 2nd and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania.

Store Adds Teen Town Department

Teen Town is the new department addition to the Tiny Town store at 340 Pennsylvania Avenue west. The basement section of the store was redecorated and turned into a separate selling area for pre-teen girls wear. Future plans by the store management call for a Teen Fashion Board, Teen Style Shows, Teen Charge-O-Counts and other activities. During September all teenagers who register at Teen Town will be eligible to win free gift certificates and subscriptions of "Seventeen." Sales clerks Ruth Beck, left, and Darlene Peterson are shown checking a clothes rack.

Peter Grant Has Training-Honor At Kentucky Base

SUGAR GROVE — Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Grant have received word from Fort Knox, Ky., that their son, Peter, who was inducted into Army service on May 2, 1959, was honored with selection as one of the high honor trainees of Company B, 6th Battalion, 3rd Infantry Regiment, in a recent basic combat training cycle.

Presently receiving six months of training as clerk-typist, Pvt. Grant will then serve six and one-half years with Company I, Pennsylvania National Guard, at Warren. Graduated from Pennsylvania State University in January, 1959, he is employed by Martin-Rockwell in Jamestown.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., were Mr. and Mrs. Fulton McKay and daughter, Cynthia, of Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stuart and daughters, Rebecca and Deborah, of Glenshaw. Cynthia McKay arrived home Saturday after spending ten weeks on a European tour and is leaving for Alexandria, Va., where she has accepted a teaching position.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Mickelson had as weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlsberg and children, Versailles, N. Y., and Vernon Van Horn, of Kane.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedman have moved into the Stohlberg home in Pleasant street, the former being a member of the Eisenhower High School staff.

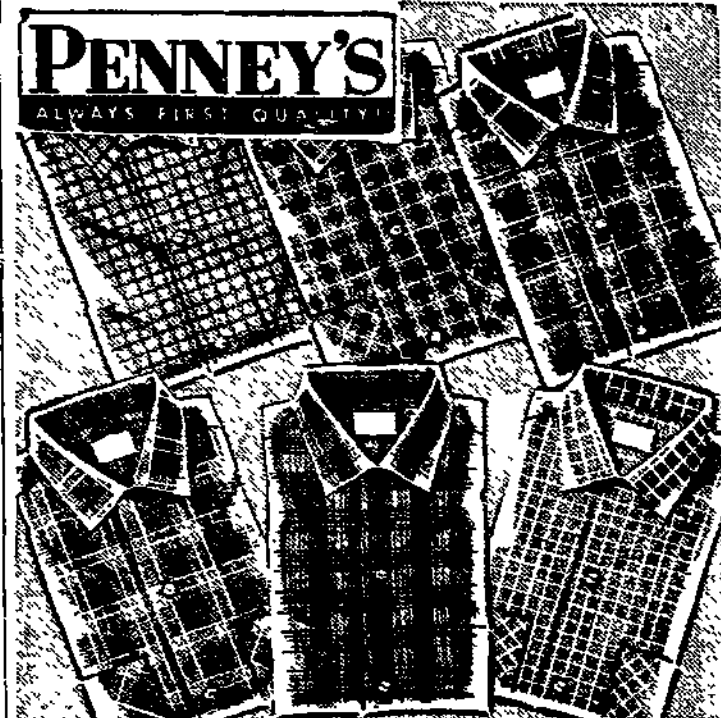

Mr. and Mrs. Pierson and family, Youngsville, have purchased the home of the late Elmer Loomis in Race street and have taken possession.

Karen and Allen Concoy have returned home after spending some time with their Concoy grandparents in Painesville, O.

Donald Abbott, of the Red and White Store, is confined to his home by illness. Clifford Storms and son, Charles, have been spending a week in Canada, enjoying a fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Olney Bullock and family, Towanda, Pa., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Frank.

Kansas Girl at Odds With Parents Over Her Eyesight

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—"I love my parents and I believe they have a right to their beliefs. But I believe I have a right to my sight and my life."

Charlene Butts, 19, is struggling with a dilemma. Physicians say she has a tumor on the pituitary gland in the brain and probably will be blind in two years and dead in four or five. She has lost 40 per cent of her sight.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to surgery for their daughter.

Atty. Emil C. Anderson Jr. has petitioned the District Court here in Miss Butts' behalf, requesting she be declared an adult so she can give her consent for the operation.

She says a nonmedical practitioner with a clinic in rural Oklahoma has convinced her father there is nothing wrong with her. "I took 11 treatments from him," she said. "I think my parents paid him about $81 for them."

"He flicked his finger in front of my eyes a couple of times and then told me my eyesight wasn't damaged 40 per cent."

"He told my parents there was an excess of water in my system, that it was filling up my lungs and my head."

The girl returned to her $37.50-a-week clerical job here after the treatments, but began having blackouts.

"My mother would give her consent immediately," Charlene said, "but she won't go against my father."

"This man down there has just convinced them there is nothing wrong with me."

Charlene's father declined comment on his daughter's statement.

Indiana Man is New President of NAFM Association

CHICAGO — Harold Sprunger, the 33-year-old executive vice president and director of Dunbar Furniture Corp., Berne, Ind., was this afternoon elevated to the position of 1959-60 president of the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.

Sprunger is the youngest man ever chosen to head the NAFM. John M. Snow, NAFM executive vice president, revealed following the election which took place at the group's 31st annual convention at the Hilton.

Sprunger is the son of Grover W. Sprunger, president of Dunbar, who in 1919—with other Berne businessmen bought the firm which had been producing buggy seats and converted it to the manufacture of leather-covered rocking chairs. The Dunbar firm is acknowledged as a leader of style and quality in furniture production.

As president, Sprunger succeeds Paul Brandt, A. Brandt Co. Inc., Fort Worth, Texas, who becomes ex officio member of the NAFM board and executive committee.

Elected to serve with Sprunger are Tinsley W. Rucker, president, Dixon Powdermaker Furniture Co., Jacksonville, Fla.; first vice president, R. H. McCurtine, president, Huntington Furniture Co., Huntington, Ind.; second vice president and Nathan S. Ancell, president, Baumratter Corp., New York City, third vice president.

Re-elected as treasurer was Percy A. Tonk. Tonk Mfg. Co., Chicago. John M. Snow was re-elected to his position as executive vice president.

Victory March of United States At Chicago Continues

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer.

CHICAGO (AP)—The track and field phase of the third Pan-American Games ends today, but not the crunching United States' victory march which in five days of competition has produced 33 gold medals for Uncle Sam.

As the U.S.A.'s Olympic-pointing track squad seeks a last batch of titles in a seven-even program in Soldier Field, an equally powerful American swimming legion gets down to championship action in the spanking new Portage Park pool.

The one-sidedness of this 10-day Western Hemisphere athletic carnival is underscored by the fact that, beyond the United States, the only other gold medal winners have been Cuba, with two, and West Indies, Argentina, Mexico and Chile with one each.

As the U.S.A. completes its romp in track and field in huge Soldier Field where the blazing Pan-American torch blows out next Monday, Coach Jack Werner is downright embarrassed over his squad's almost complete domination of the games.

Bunning Holds White Sox Hurling 4 to 0 Shut Out

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Add another chapter to the strange career of Jim Bunning, the lean right-hander who was a surprise 20-game winner two years ago, then pitched a no-hit masterpiece—and faded.

Tuesday night he shut out Chicago's streaking, first-place White Sox, one of the toughest clubs to blank in the American League, putting them away on three singles and ending their winning spring at five as Detroit took a 4-0 victory.

It was Bunning's first shutout in 45 starts since July 20, 1956—the day he no-hit Boston 3-0. It was only the sixth time this season that the White Sox, their edge over rain-idled Cleveland cut to five games, have been held scoreless.

Ted Kluszewski had two of the White Sox' hits. Luis Aparicio had the other as Bunning, now 14-10, bagged his fifth straight victory.

It also was the Tigers' fifth success in a row, matching their best streak of the year, and retained their one-game hold on third place over New York. The Yankees defeated Baltimore 5-0 as Whitey Ford and reliever Ryne Duren combined for a seven-hit shutout. Washington beat Boston 7-4, with Harmon Killebrew regaining a share of the major league home run lead with his 39th.

TRAPPED—Ed Elisian was trapped in his machine after it collided with another in a 200-mile big car race on the Wisconsin State Fair Park Track in Milwaukee. Elisian's mount was upside down when it struck the wall, and the 33-year-old driver was burned to death in it.

Solar Removed From City Flag Race by Distributors

Soda Mineral won the right to tangle with pennant winners Beets Black Knights in best of five Shaughnessy playoffs for the 1959 title starting Thursday, after beating Solar Electric Bombers 7-2 on West Side field Tuesday evening.

Ending their playoff series with Solar, the distributors rallied on the 3-for-3 hitting of H. Brown, 2-for-3 from Dick White's bat and W. Check's 2-for-4 batting as they dominated the game from second inning.

A double play saved a potential scoring threat from Solar in fifth inning. With runners on second and third, Bill Massa lined a hard grounder to D. White. The Soda Mineral fielder tagged the runner on third, then pegged the ball to first to catch Massa out.

S-M opened the score board register bottom of second inning with one run, preceded by a tying Solar run top of third. Pop boys pushed three across in their half, and added their final three runs in fifth. Solar came through for one last rally top of sixth.

Tomorrow's pennant playoff will begin at 6 p. m. on home field of City Softball League, West Side. Newly installed bleachers earlier in the season provide comfortable seating for many fans.

Pirates' Hopes On Law Against Reds This Evening

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pittsburgh's late-scoring, fast-rising Pirates will send their two hottest pitchers against the Cincinnati Reds tonight in an effort to move up the National League ladder.

Vern Law (15-7), who was slated to hurl Tuesday's, rained out game, and Bob Friend (8-15) have been selected to face the Reds in the two-night doubleheader at Crosley Field. Opposing them will be Jim O'Toole (4-7) and Don Newcombe (12-7).

The Pirates are hoping that the only thing cooled off by Tuesday's rain was the weather.

Winners of 15 of their last 18 games, the Pirates can move within one-half game of second place with a double win coupled with a Los Angeles loss to St. Louis. The Dodgers now are only two games ahead of Pittsburgh after their 3-0 loss to the Cardinals Tuesday night.

STEELERS DROP TOLAR

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP)—Charley Tolar, a 5-foot 6 halfback from Northwestern State, La., has been dropped by the Pittsburgh Steelers, primarily because of his size.

"Those big Bears were just jumping over him Saturday night," commented one coach in describing Tolar's showing in the Steelers' 54-11 exhibition loss to the Chicago Bears.

Dozens of Lost Items at Dam Office

Chapman Dam Park Foreman John Rodgers has an accumulation of miscellaneous items collected from the beach at the Dam this summer. Visitors to the area may claim lost items by calling the park office, RA 3-3448, or stopping by and identifying the lost property. Included in the collection is a box of keys, purses, billfolds, religious medals, jewelry, clothing, swimming fins and masks and dozens of other items.

Larry Jackson Foils Hopes Of Dodgers to Close the Gap

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'd think those Los Angeles Dodgers have a mental block when it comes to closing in on the National League lead.

Start in May. They were tied for first in mid-month, then lost five in a row and fell to fourth. I took 'em more than a month to get within a game of the top on June 28 after winning nine of 10. Then they lost four out of five. They were only a half-game shy of the first All-Star game break when they lost five out of seven. Twelve days later, they were just a half-game behind only to lose three out of four.

They were first by a half-game July 29, then skidded to third. On August 8 they were only a half-

Jackson Popular Armstrong Meets Dick Tiger in TV Bout This Evening

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If a poll were taken to find a nickname for Larry Jackson, the ballot boxes around here would likely be stuffed with ships marked "Stone-wall".

Jackson, just holding his own against the National League at large, cast another spell over the second place Dodgers Tuesday night by stopping them on two hits as St. Louis took the opener of a 3-game series 3-0.

This left Los Angeles not only embarrassed but also a game and a half behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants, who were idle.

"I always seem to have tough games against the Dodgers," Jackson said, "but I usually come out all right."

If it looked tough to Johnson he was seeing things not evident to many others in the park. He threw only 101 pitches and permitted but two Los Angeles runners to get beyond first base. The Dodgers sent only 10 men to bat.

Author of Famed "Ball Game" Song Dies at 80 Years

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—The man who wrote baseball's own song—"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—died Tuesday night.

He was Jack Norworth, 80, song writer, actor and sports fan—once known as "the King of Vaudeville."

He died of a heart attack at his home in this seaside resort.

Norworth wrote "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" in 1908. He liked to recall that he had never seen a baseball game then and got his inspiration from an advertisement about a game at the Polo Grounds while riding the New York subway.

A baseball executive once said that Norworth's song did more to popularize and sentimentalize baseball than any other single factor in the game's history with the possible exception of Babe Ruth's fabulous bat.

Another of his famous songs was "Shine on Harvest Moon."

He was singing it in his dressing room in a New York theater in 1907 when the musical comedy star, Nora Bayes, stuck her head in the door and said: "I like that song. Will you let me use it my act?"

"Yes," Norworth replied, "if you'll take me along with it. We'll sing it together."

Within a week they were married. They became the highest priced show business team in the world. They were divorced in 1913.

He is survived by his wife, Amy, with whom he recently wrote the song "Las Vegas," and a sister, Mrs. Loren Bodgett of Philadelphia.

Fifteen Horses To Start Today In Hambletonian

By BILL HUDSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Seldom beaten Diller Hanover, chief contender for this year's three-year-old trotting championship, faced 14 challengers in today's 14th Hambletonian.

Harness racing fans hope for a fast track and a possible record time to erase the 1:59 4-5 last year by Emily's Pride. It rained Tuesday but the forecast was for clear weather.

Post time is 2:30 p.m. EST with succeeding heats hourly until one horse wins two of the one-mile dashes.

This 34th Hambletonian carries a $125,284 gross purse. The richest harness race ever. The winner's share is $73,655.

Diller Hanover drew the No. 1 position. That's at the advantage most fans figured he and veteran pilot Frank Ervin will need. Among his main competitors, John A. Hanover and Dico were in the front line, but Diller's stablemate, The Silk, was next to the outside in the second tier.

World Today

been almost entirely out of the public eye since taking office last spring.

First, he was occupied many weeks at Geneva negotiating with the Soviets, unsuccessfully, over Berlin. He hastened back to go quickly to Latin America for conferences. Then he returned and set off for Europe with Eisenhower.

Typically, ever since reaching Europe with the President last week, Herter has stayed in the background. There was no one to share the spotlight with Eisenhower. It wouldn't have been that way if Dulles were secretary.

Just go back four years—to the weeks before and after Eisenhower's 1955 summit conference at Geneva—and the records show how much Dulles was in the picture with the President.

Except for the actual summit meeting itself, Dulles was the one who dominated the news, not Eisenhower. Before the summit meeting he even shared a TV appearance with the President, and did most of the talking.

It seems safe to say that if Dulles, who died last May, were alive today Eisenhower would not be having the news all to himself. It might have been Dulles, not Eisenhower, who was now touring Allied capitals.

A vacuum in American foreign policy began appearing early this year when Dulles, dying of cancer, faded behind hospital walls. There was no one left but Eisenhower to direct or dominate that policy. And Eisenhower did.

He continued to do so as Dulles died and Herter was out of the country. The President relied far more on Dulles for guidance than he appears to do on Herter.

Nevertheless, through the first half of this year there was not much initiative here in foreign policy for the simple reason that Khrushchev had seized it and kept it.

First, Khrushchev created a crisis over West Berlin by threatening to force Allied troops out of the city if they didn't go willingly. Then the early months of the year were taken up with trying to get Khrushchev, who wanted a summit conference, to let foreign ministers discuss Berlin.

He continued to keep the Allies jumpy with his belligerent statements. When he finally agreed to a foreign ministers conference, it was almost certain to fail anyway because he wanted it to. He preferred a summit meeting.

And when it did fail it was Khrushchev, so far as is publicly known, who first proposed, last July 7, an exchange of visits between him and Eisenhower. The President agreed.

And all of Eisenhower's activities since then have been taken up with preparations for Khrushchev's visit here in mid-September. The President's conferences with allies in Europe now are a prelude to meeting Khrushchev.

Basilio-Bassey Lose Contender Spots in Rating

NEW YORK (AP)—Former champions Carmen Basilio and Hogan Kid Bassey, knockout victims in their most recent bouts, have been dropped from the leading contender's position in the latest Ring ratings released today.

Basilio, the erstwhile middleweight titleholder, was dumped from No. 1 to 3 as a result of his loss to Gene Fullmer in last Friday's National Boxing Assn. title match. Fullmer moved into the No. 1 spot while Spider Webb of Chicago advanced to second place.

Despite Fullmer's impressive triumph, Ring continues to recognize Sugar Ray Robinson as the 160-pound boss.

Charlene Still Trying For Brain Operation

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—Charlene Butts, 19, is trying another court action to obtain consent for a brain operation that may save her life.

Her attorney petitioned Wyandotte County Probate Court Tuesday for appointment of a guardian for the girl.

A guardian could authorize the surgery. Physicians say the girl has a tumor that will make her blind in two years and take her life in four or five years.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butts of Oswego, Kan., have refused to consent to the operation. Mrs. Butts declined to say why. Charlene has said they are opposed to the operation because a masseur who examined her said surgery wasn't necessary.

On Trial for Beating Step-Daughter to Death

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Atty. Richard E. McCormick of Westmoreland County will ask a first degree murder conviction with the death penalty against a 28-year-old man accused of beating to death his two-year-old step-daughter.

McCormick told the jury Tuesday night he will seek this conviction against Charles Brewer, a bowling alley pin setter from Jeannette.

The state contends Brewer fatally beat Agnes Clemens last Jan. 19 because she was crying.

The first witness, Dr. Marian H. Crumlish, a pathologist, testified there were more than 300 bruises on the child's face, body and legs.

Troop Rotation Program Being Dropped by Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has dropped its much-heralded troop rotation program without any fanfare or even an explanation.

"Operation Gyroscope"—a system of rotating Army units between Europe and the United States—was started with much ceremony in January 1955. At that time, the 1st Infantry Division in Germany changed places with the 10th Infantry Division at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Later the Army cooled off on the idea of rotating divisions and it limited exchanges to battle groups, battalions and lesser groups.

And, without giving any reason, it announced Tuesday it would drop the program. From now on, four-man teams will be trained and sent to Europe, where they will be assigned to companies that need replacements.

Rattlesnake Killed on Cherry Grove Road

A three-foot rattlesnake was killed by three Clarendon boys last evening while driving on the Cherry Grove Road about one-half mile off Route 6. The reptile had 7 rattlers and a button. The youths, Tom Sleeman, Ed Sleeman and Art Lane said their car struck the snake about 8:45 p. m. Investigating, the youths found life in the poisonous snake and severed its head from the body. It is believed that the snake was traveling for water, possibly Tionesta creek, after spending a rather hot and dry month in nearby woods.

Residents of the Warren area are still curious about the identity of a group of planes that roared across the sky toward the northwest last evening shortly before dark. Many are of the opinion that at least a number of them were jets.

BOAT FOUND DRIFTING

State Police reported today that a 14-foot motor boat owned by Gene Vogle, 10 North Irvine street, was found Tuesday about one mile south of Russell where the owner had it tied. The 10 horsepower Johnson motor on the boat was missing. Kids swimming in the Conewango were reportedly finders of the craft.

Youngster Hit By Car Near His Home

Five-year-old Terry Vesling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Vesling, 105 Canton street, was struck by a car near his home Tuesday afternoon when he darted into the street.

A member of the family said Mrs. Robert A. Donham, 218 Canton street, was driver of the vehicle.

The boy's mother said he sustained a left leg injury, abrasions and a bloody nose. He was treated at Warren General and discharged.

Mrs. Vesling said Terry was playing near the street when he suddenly darted into the path of the Donham car about 4 p. m.

The two leaders exchanged formal greetings in the airport's VIP lounge, which was draped in red, white and blue.

De Gaulle saluted his visitor as the president of the country which, "more than all the others, is dear to France."

Eisenhower responded that De Gaulle was "the symbol of French courage when freedom itself was at stake."

"We will find ways to make our common effort more effective," the American president said.

A Europe-wide TV network carried the arrival ceremonies.

After lunch Eisenhower drove back to the Foreign Ministry for an hour's rest before starting further talks with De Gaulle.

NIGHT CLUB TAX OUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has voted to reduce the federal tax on night club tabs from 20 to 10 per cent. The bill now goes to the Senate.

versary of the German invasion of Poland, which set off World War II.

Eisenhower cordially greeted Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, whose critical comments nettled Eisenhower so much that he snubbed a card from Montgomery last Christmas.

When the evening was over, Montgomery left beaming and waving enthusiastically to a cheering crowd outside Winfield House, the residence of U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney where the dinner was held.

At dinner Montgomery sat within talking range of Eisenhower, just five feet across the table. What was said during the meal was not disclosed.

But Eisenhower was in high spirits and in no mood to raise past antagonisms.

He placed in an honored seat at his left Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke, who also has had a few criticisms of his wartime leadership. Alanbrooke was Britain's top commander during the war.

Field Marshal Earl Alexander, commander of Allied ground forces in North Africa and later in Italy during the war, sat at Eisenhower's right.

Wearing dinner jacket and black tie, the President greeted each of the 25 British guests at the door.

The President put his hand under 84-year-old Sir Winston Churchill's elbow and led the party into a large foyer for a group picture.

When the photographers crowded around for a closeup, Macmillan seemed momentarily startled. But Eisenhower was amused and told the prime minister, "Now you can see the whites of their eyes."

five leaders to press for immediate action on subsidies.

Sponsors of the latest plan also explained that by counting parochial and private school children in the total school population, school districts would in effect reduce the real estate market value per each pupil—a basic consideration in computing state aid.

The smaller the market value per each pupil, the higher would be the state share of educating that pupil.

Resignation of Menon

(From Page One)

Reports of Thimayya's resignation had caused grave concern because of the occupation by Chinese Communist troops of various bits of Indian territory along the border between Tibet and India. Krishna Menon had refused to confirm or deny the reports in Parliament.

The newspaper The Statesman reported meanwhile that the situation on the Northeast Frontier appeared to have eased and said the Chinese possibly had moved away from border outposts they captured last week.

Bhutan's Premier Jigme Dorji denied in Calcutta that Chinese Communist troops had crossed the Bhutanese border. He said the situation in his country was quiet and no fresh incidents have been reported. Dorji is on his way to New Delhi for talks with Nehru.

Mr. Smith told the Times-Mirror this morning he and a number of other property owners believe the school district should be required to halt building operations. He said he believed the contractor should divert his work to construction of a storm sewer or some other engineering project that would provide protection in the short-possible time.

Y.

RICHARD C. O'CONNOR

Word has been received in Warren that Richard C. O'Connor, former resident, died suddenly Saturday at his home in Long Beach, Calif.

Born in Warren in 1885, Mr. O'Connor attended local schools before leaving here about 50 years ago. When he retired five years ago, he was the oldest passenger conductor of the Southern Pacific Railroad. For 20 years, he served as vice president of the Grand Lodge, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Surviving are his wife and two children, Mrs. Frank Fogel, Phoenix, Ariz., and R. E. O'Connor, El Paso, Texas; four grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Harry Eggleston, Warren; also several nieces and nephews here.

Removal has been made to El Paso, where services will be held Thursday morning and interment will be made.

WILLIAM T. HALE

William Thurber Hale, native of Warren county, died Tuesday afternoon at his home, 2417 K street northwest, Washington, D. C., at the age of 59 years.

Mr. Hale was born at Akeley July 2, 1900, the son of the late William B. and Ida Payne Hale, but had lived in Washington for the past 25 years. He was an electrical engineer by profession.

Surviving are his wife, Helen Roderick Hale; a brother, Howard P. Hale, Lewiston, N. Y.; several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Removal will be made to a local funeral home for services at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, with interment following in Hale cemetery at Akeley.

As well as being the smallest state, Rhode Island is the most densely populated.

vote, the bill will go to the Senate.

Confident House Democratic leaders figured on losing few, if any, of the 233 Democratic votes and on picking up quite a few Republican ballots.

Republican leaders pitched their plea to their 153 members on party loyalty and "fiscal responsibility." Some of them had urged the President not to veto the bill because it involves projects in many Republican districts and might adversely affect the political future of GOP incumbents.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three former Mutual Broadcasting System officials have denied federal accusations that they accepted $750,000 to broadcast Dominican Republic propaganda disguised as news.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional committee says tactics in the space age may require a new merger of the Army and the Air Force, which have been separate units only 12 years.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atlas now is in the hands of the Strategic Air Command, but the Air Force will not say if this means the intercontinental ballistic missile is operational.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Admirers of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt now have government backing for their plan to erect a memorial to him here.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A group of 12 companies today made a new offer to end a 14-week strike of 750 boilermakers in the Pittsburgh district.

PYMATUNING TRAGEDY
LINESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Casby Kindred, 39, of Pittsburgh, drowned early today while swimming in Pymatuning Lake. He was a striking steelworker.

Kindred's body was found by firemen several hours after he left his vacation home for a swim near the lake's spillway. Friends tried to save the man but failed.

REAL TRAGEDY

DENVER (AP)—The family dog dragged 11-month-old Stephen Young's stroller into the path of a car Tuesday. The child was critically hurt. Police said the dog, whose leash had been tied to the stroller, was chasing a cat. The child's sister, Linda, 8, had left him while she went to a nearby drugstore.

YOUTH DROWNS

NEW BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Robert T. Tateison, 21, of Punxsutawney, drowned Tuesday night while swimming in a gravel pit about 10 miles south of this Armstrong County town.

Funerals

WILLIAM T. HALE—Friends will be received at the Lutz-Vermylen Home, starting at 10:00 a. m. Saturday, and services will be held there at 2:00 p. m. the same day. Interment will follow in Hale cemetery at Akeley.

All-steel railroad passenger cars were introduced in 1906.

AERIAL WATCHDOG—A bolt from the blue may strike motorists on the Kansas Turnpike, who think the road's 80-m.p.h. speed limit is too low. State police, flying the Cessna 182 above, have nabbed 117 violators through July of this year—one-fifth of the total of speeding arrests. All have been upheld in court. Mile markers on the highway, plus a stop watch in the plane, enable troopers to accurately clock the speed of a car some 1,000 feet below them. When a speeder is identified, a radio message alerts a highway patrol car, which issues the ticket. Kansas' air-and-ground campaign has pushed speeding several steps down on the list of causes of turnpike accidents.

CHIP SHAPE—A regular rolling work of art, this mosaic auto is displayed by its builder, San Francisco artist Nikos Bel-Jon. In Detroit, Mich., Bel-Jon used glass to change the shape of the original body of the car, then covered it with individually cut and polished chips of colored aluminum, topped by a protective layer of resin plastic.

Tinted Foundation Adds Glow

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A tinted make-up foundation can do a lot for a girl. Properly applied and buffed down with cleansing tissue, it provides a glow for the skin as well as protection from wind, sun, heat or cold. Some foundation creams or lotions keep the skin moisturized all day long.

But in applying tinted foundation, bear in mind that it should go on lightly. And pick a shade that's close to your own natural skin tones. Otherwise, what you'll get will be a rose-tinted face and neck in sharp contrast to white arms and hands.

This defeats the very purpose you had in using the foundation: a natural, glowing look. It creates an enameled, artificial look that's as dated as high-button shoes.

Don't regard a tinted foundation as a cover-up for blemishes.

either. This is a matter to be handled separately and not to be coated over with cosmetics.

It's astonishing that people who have gone on a diet successfully often tend to backslide once the weight is off. But they do, and presently the pounds come back.

A diet is more than just habits. If you're to keep your weight where you want it from then on, you must remember that you're going to have to be calorie-conscious.

This may not be fun but who said it should be? And the rewards are more energy, a better figure, a younger looking you. Bear in mind that when dessert comes around, your answer must be "No, thank you," unless dessert happens to be fresh fruit or cheese.

It may be a help if you look at it this way: you can't possibly begin to eat all of the sweets and rich foods there are, so why be concerned about them at all?

The heat and humidity of late summer can sometimes cause skin problems which have been dormant to blossom anew.

The sun, in small doses, is the best answer to these. A soothing antiseptic cream, applied daily, is another help. And bath oil in the nightly bath can soothe and refresh the skin, leaving it with a silky feeling.

If none of these measures clears up tiny bumps or itchy skin, consult your doctor. Don't in any case, attempt to clear up skin problems over a long period of time without expert help.

TRAMPLED BY HORSE

FROSBURG, Md. (AP)—James Powell, 52, of Rankin, Pa. died in Miners Hospital Monday of injuries suffered when he was thrown from a horse and trampled.

GRIDIRON TRAGEDY

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—An accident on the first day of football practice took the life Tuesday of Tom Gentner, 19, promising Trinidad Junior College freshman from Tucson, Ariz. His larynx was shattered when struck by another player's elbow during a conditioning drill. He died on the field.

FATAL ACCIDENT

BREEZEWOOD, Pa. (AP)—A tractor-trailer left Route 136 near Breezeewood and smashed against an embankment Tuesday night, killing George J. Coleman, 45, of Beaver Dam, Va.

First college in the U.S. to teach American history and government was Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1795.

Bill Provides Salary Raises for Co. Officers

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate Tuesday night approved 43-7 and sent to Gov. Lawrence three measures to increase the salaries of elected officials in sixth, seventh and eighth class counties.

Pay raises for the three classes of counties were approved by the Senate earlier but the measures had to go back to the Senate after the house raised some of the proposed increases.

Easy-Care Touches Can Brighten Teen-Age Rooms

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

The freshening-up process that precedes the opening of school, as children are switched from bed-ragged jeans to shirts and skirts, may well extend to refurbishing their rooms, too.

Many parents today select children's furniture that will carry them from the nursery to the grown-up stage, so decorating changes are usually made in accessories and color schemes.

Example: a teen-ager's room is also a study hall, snack bar and private club. Furnishings should be keyed to the expected wear and, usually, to gay, forthright color schemes.

Bedsprings are the focal point in most youngster's rooms. Fabrics such as corduroy are popular because of their sturdiness, clear colors and easy washability.

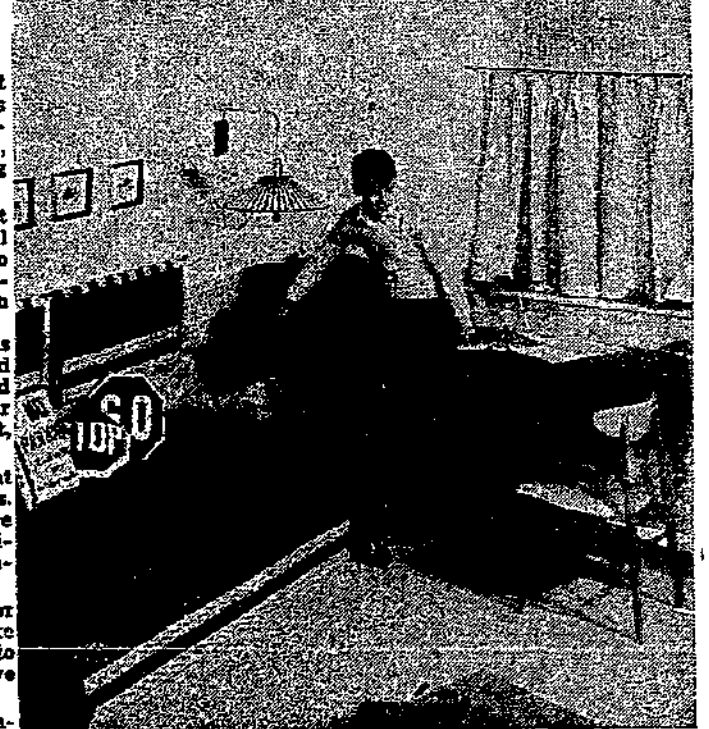

Whether you sew spreads or buy ready-mades, you might like to add washable trimmings to lend originality to inexpensive fabrics.

If a new rug is needed, consider choosing one or two in sizes that can be home-laundered.

For a feminine room, the new, fluffy acrylic rugs in white or pastels bespeak queenlike luxury even though they can be machine-laundered and dried.

Some specific suggestions: worked out for model rooms, bring gaiety, convenience and charm to a boy's or girl's room. In a boy's room, for example, a studio couch bed is covered with an avocado-colored, knitted corduroy throw, trimmed with two bands of flat braid combining white, gold, black and avocado.

Instead of bolsters, two foam-rubber cushions, covered in matching, tone-trimmed corduroy, are hung by the braided tape loops on a gold curtain rod above the couch.

Pulley-type lamp and bracketed radio stand add new touches to a boy's bedroom study in avocado, gold, white and black.

wonderfully washable and must-proof, is used for cafe curtains which are neatly pleated with a type of tape that opens out flat for touch-up ironing.

A fresh new color scheme for a teen-age girl's room is yellow, tangerine, and white. Placement of the single bed in one model room is unusual and practical. The bed is set on an angle in a corner, leaving a triangular space behind the plain-panel headboard into which a shelf fits to hold a lamp and odds-and-ends. The corner treatment is defined by a tape design-toned, wide.

Corner bed, with ceiling valance and spread trim in yellow, tangerine and white, adds charm and utility to a teen-ager's room.

ridged corduroy curtain which matches the coverlet.

The dust ruffle is in a brightly patterned yellow, tangerine and white cotton, and is cleverly made.

One of the charms of dust ruffles is their crisp, immaculate appearance.

To simplify removing the ruffle from the bed without moving the mattress, one edge of this ruffle is finished with a tape which has two woven-in cords.

The cords are pulled taut around the mattress to hold the ruffle in place.

In this case, double curtain rods hold next to the wall a deep flounce of the printed dust ruffle material, topped by a flat overlay of corduroy, several inches shorter than the print, which roughly duplicates the effect of the straight coverlet over the shirred dust ruffle on the bed.

IKE AT BALMORAL—President Eisenhower, left, and Queen Elizabeth II review the honor guard as the President arrives at Balmoral Castle, Scotland. Queen Elizabeth broke her announced decision to make no further public appearances until after the birth of her third child, and greeted the President at gateway to the castle.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Does it pay for a movie star to do a Broadway show?

In the case of Dana Andrews, the answer is yes. He has just returned from a year's run in "Two For the Seesaw," taking over the role Henry Fonda created in the two-character play. In the comfort of his Toluca Lake home, he assessed the value of his sabbatical.

"Financially, I did better than I have in films, although I made less money. I've been earning $300,000 a year in films for the past five years. During the past year, I made $200,000. I was getting 10 per cent of the play's gross, which was usually $5,000 a week. The rest of my income was from payments on pictures that had been spread out over a few years.

"But because all my living expenses in the East were deductible, I was able to save a third more money than I would here. Also, I did nothing but work, so I wasn't spending money.

"As far as my own work is concerned, I think it did a great deal of good. I was working on the character all the time, and I was always getting better. My wife Mary could see the change; she would see the play every three months and said it improved tremendously.

"My picture career? I think it helped that, too. I left here because of two unfortunate situations: I had gotten some bad publicity about a couple of incidents that concerned drinking; and I had done a couple of bad pictures.

"The fact that I did eight shows a week for a year and could draw seems to have impressed the producers. At least I'm getting some better offers now."

Dana is now mulling some film assignments, plus the possibility of another play.

New Paris Fall Fashions Conventional and Eccentric

By NADEANE WALKER
PARIS (AP)—The new Paris fashions for fall are short and they are long. They are conventional, and they are eccentric. Today pictures of the new creations can be published, and the public can take its pick. To protect themselves from commercial copyists, Paris fashion houses ban photos of their new styles until models are safely in the hands of buyers.

Now you can see what all the fuss was about when fashion writers got first peek at the shows more than a month ago. Dior's knee-high skirts were the sensation of the season. Lanvin's long hems were the biggest letdown. Dior likes Dior's short skirts and has bought 10 of them. Barbara Hutton has gone for Lanvin's long look in an even bigger way. The Duchess of Windsor has said she won't wear them that short, and designer Yves Saint-Laurent's mother has said she will. Proving that mother love is something special.

The duchess also said, as she arose with a sigh from her spindly gold chair at the Dior opening. "That's the hardest thing I ever sat on." A thousand fashion writers have sighed the same sigh every fashion season.

From the thousands of models shown, here are the main trends: Fairly slim tube dresses for day wear—Helm called his silhouette the "test tube."

Brocade or lame suits for cocktail and dinner time—Chanel and Balmain showed some of the best of these.

New color shadings that melt from pale at the shoulder to deep hues at the hem—Cardin can claim a monopoly on these, but the idea is sure to spread.

Tunic effects—everybody did them.

Warmly lined but sleeveless over-vests—a bright idea of Guy Laroche.

Elbow-length bell sleeves—designed by Jules Crahway in Nina Ricci collection.

All the designers went for black, brown, grey and beige for day wear. Hairy or tree-bark wools for suits and coats were equalled

New Kane Factory Would Employ 500 Making Furniture

KANE — A new industry which would provide up to 500 men with jobs is expected to locate here, according to the Kane Area Industrial Development Corp. Name of the industry was not disclosed but it was reported to be a nationally known furniture industry.

Final details for locating the company here will be worked out this month at a Chicago meeting, local sources said. The company is the second largest of its kind in the industry with five plants, all west of the Mississippi.

The operation here would be housed in a 100,000 square foot building with a five-year expansion plan that would increase floor area to half a million square feet. Site of the proposed industry is a 47-acre tract south of Kane. Kane's share of the industrial project will be between $120,000 and $150,000.
